'NEUTRAL' REPUBLIC PLANNED BY CEYLON

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters)—Ceylon today announced plans to revise its constitution, making the country a republic within the Commonwealth and guaranteeing fundamental rights to minorities.

Today's throne speech opening Parliament said that the foreign policy of the new government would be "strict neutrality and non-alignment with power blocs" combined with "friendship with all countries."

'Slashers' Loot Gallery

Stolen Paintings
Valued at $56,000

HAMILTON (CP)—Eleven paintings valued at $56,000 were cut from their frames and stolen from the Hamilton Art Gallery Tuesday night. Another was slashed and left at the scene.

Two of the paintings were valued at $15,000 each. One was worth $10,000 and others ranged between $800 and $3,000 in value.

Police said the theft might be linked with recent art thefts in Toronto. Three 19th-century Canadian paintings worth $12,000 were stolen from the Royal Ontario Museum on March 4.

Gallery officials said the $56,000 figure was the insured value of the paintings. Their actual value could be from $60,000 to $90,000, they added.

Police said eight oils on canvas, two oils on wood and one pastel were all taken from number six gallery in the southwest part of the building. No other paintings in the gallery were touched.

One painting, Martin Luther's Doubt, by James J. Tissot, worth $1,000, was slashed down the middle and left in the gallery.

The thieves entered the building by sawing a hole through the bottom panel in a rear door. The gallery burglar alarm is not activated unless the door is forced open.

ALL CLASSICS

Acting gallery director Mrs. Marie Lester said all the stolen paintings were classics.

The stolen art included: Springtime, a pastel by Leon L. Hermitte, valued at $1,200.

Le Porche de l'Eglise San Marco, oil on wood by J. W. Morrice, $1,400.

The Trader, oil on canvas, by Cornelius Krieghoff, $5,000.

The Coming Storm, oil on canvas by Henri Fantin-Latour, $15,000.

Nature Morte, oil on canvas by Georges Braque, $10,000.

Black Pool, oil on canvas by Gustave Courbet, $15,000.

More Atlas And Polaris, Less Bomarc

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower revamped his defence budget today to bolster the Atlas and Polaris missile programs and cut back the Bomarc and Super-Sage defence system.

Eisenhower's decision was announced after he conferred with top defence officials at the White House.

The new program calls for 18 additional intercontinental Atlas missiles which cost $2,000,000 each. The president's original fiscal 1961 budget contained funds for equipping the air force with 40 of the successfully-tested missiles.

No details of the stepped-up Polaris program were given.

S. Gates said there would be an "augmentation" of the navy weapon, which can be fired from underwater by submarines.

Gates said that because of the reduction of funds for the Bomarc, Super-Sage and continental defence programs, little if any extra money would be required.

The Atlas, a 90-foot, liquid-fuelled rocket with a range of more than 6,000 miles, is the only U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile to become operational so far.

Explosive Negro Pass Law Renewed by South Africa

System Caused Crisis

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—Justice Minister F. C. Erasmus announced today the government will re-introduce the pass system for non-whites. Opposition to the passes touched off the country's current racial turmoil.

Erasmus said police again will be ordered to demand that Negroes show their passes. The pass law was suspended at the height of the violence.

In a statement he said the government might investigate the possibility of applying the pass laws "in such a way as to put more stress upon the advantage which they hold for the Bantu (Negroes)."

HOW THEY HELP

He said the documents help Negroes "as this is the only way they can protect their right to be in an urban or white proclaimed area and to work there."

In another development on the troubled South African scene, heavily armed forces drove rebellious Negroes out of a stronghold near Durban today.

Police, supported by civilian military reserve units and armored cars, moved in on a Lamontville workers' hostel which police said defiant Negroes had held since Monday night.

The cluster of hostel buildings, surrounded by a mile-long fence, was circled before dawn, and those inside were warned that police would open fire if they did not come out and go to work.

The Negroes surrendered without a fight. Police arrested more than 300 persons and said they confiscated thousands of clubs, axes, picks and other weapons inside the hostel buildings.

Lamontville, outside Durban, was the scene of a clash between police and a crowd of Negroes campaigning for political rights Monday night.

HEAD FOR RESERVES

Reports Tuesday said hundreds had packed up their belongings and left the hostel for their homes in native reserves. The hostel buildings originally accommodated about 4,500 persons.

With the government now armed with new sweeping powers to outlaw Negro political organizations, police spokesmen say they are determined to press their campaign against what they call "inciters and intimidators."

Arms Freeze On Africa West Plan

LONDON (UPI)—The West plans to propose an African arms freeze at next month's summit conference to prevent an arms race among the new nations of the dark continent, high diplomatic sources said today.

The tentative plan calls for an appeal to the Russians to join in the freeze, which neither the Communist nations nor the Western powers would supply arms to Africa's infant nations.

Immigration Ease

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has reduced to one from two years the waiting period for would-be immigrants whose tuberculosis is thought to be inactive. Health Minister Monteleone announced today in the Commons.

Rivers Pound Weak Levees

CHICAGO (AP)—The turbulent Mississippi and Missouri Rivers continued their relentless pounding against soggy and weakened levees in the midwest United States flood belt today, threatening new overflows.

Swollen rivers and streams caused trouble along new fronts in New England and New York state, and the most severe flood in 20 years was forecast along the Connecticut River in New England.

The major flood, fighting was along the Mississippi and Missouri in Illinois and Missouri.

WORST CRISIS

The most immediate critical area today was along the 50-mile stretch of the Mississippi from Niot, Ill., across from Fort Madison, Iowa, to Quincy, Ill.

Flood danger increased as water spilled over levees at several places and battered against weakened dikes.

Students joined farmers and civil defence workers in the fight to hold the levees in Niot. They piled thousands of sandbags atop the levee south of the small community.

Across the river in Missouri, the Mississippi threatened to break through the levee at Gregory Landing, and calls were issued for more volunteers to shore up the weakening wall.

HUNDREDS LEAVE HOMES

Thousands of acres have been flooded and hundreds of families evacuated from their homes in Illinois and Missouri in the last week.

Along the Missouri, army engineers said some 20,000 acres were flooded from Osage City to the Mississippi junction north of St. Louis.

In the eastern flood zones, evacuated in scattered parts of New York state and New England as major streams reached flood crest.

Avro 'Saucer' For NATO?

TORONTO (CP)—The Star says Avro's "flying saucer" may go on the assembly line at nearby Malton as a military requirement for NATO.

In an Ottawa story, the newspaper says it is indicated, the vertical takeoff vehicle will probably be one of the Canadian military projects to be submitted to the NATO armaments committee for approval for general use.

Defence Minister Peakes said at Ottawa Tuesday a number of such projects would be submitted by Canada, but he did not name any.

"It is expected production of the Avrocar for NATO will be urged by either Canada or the U.S. or both," The Star says.

Two prototypes have been completed, and one was shipped to California last year for testing.

Party Woos Red Trade

(Times Ottawa Bureau) OTTAWA—Canada is making a determined bid to sell isotopes, including cobalt 60 therapy units and Salk vaccine, to the Iron Curtain countries.

Heading a three-man delegation is William Green, export manager of Atomic Energy of Canada.

The delegation will visit Czechoslovakia, Romania, Poland, the Soviet Union and possibly Yugoslavia.

Gates would be given more responsibility on the approach and material in speeches," he said. "To go for a cup of coffee, you literally have to check the time and place with Ottawa."

Smith argued that the tight control by the department left delegates inflexible.

"These references back to Ottawa always put us in the position where we're a day behind on UN affairs," he said.

Robertson said many references were necessitated by the fact that subjects before UN committees closely involved departments other than external affairs.

ANNIVERSARY RIDE THROUGH LONDON

French President Charles de Gaulle and his wife celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary today in London as they rode in an open carriage along Fleet

Street to a civic luncheon at the Guildhall. Big crowds of Britons cheered the French couple on the second day of a three-day state visit.

BRITONS CHARMED

De Gaulle, Mac Talk Summit

LONDON (CP)—Charles de Gaulle, after charming Britons in the first hectic day of his visit here, wound up his pre-summit talks with Prime Minister Macmillan today.

Then he rode through streets lined with cheering crowds to a banquet given by the lord mayor of London.

The French president and Mrs. de Gaulle were driven in an open state carriage from Buckingham Palace to the ancient Guildhall, seat of the semi-independent old City of London.

The French chief of state met Macmillan during the morning and talked over with him various world issues expected to arise at the Big Four summit conference opening in Paris May 16.

Earlier in the day de Gaulle turned out in morning clothes to receive the high commissioners for Commonwealth countries, including George Drew of Canada, at the palace.

His talks with Macmillan took place in the presence of the French and British foreign ministers, Maurice Couve de Murville and Selwyn Lloyd, indicating that some detailed diplomatic work was conducted.

BAN THE BOMB

Meanwhile, a small group of demonstrators demanding "Ban the bomb" greeted the president's wife as she drove into the grounds of a children's hospital at Carshalton, south of London. One of their banners read: "How many children are an H-bomb worth?"

The incident was the first jarring note in the visit, during which de Gaulle has shattered the image of a rigidly austere leader.

As he drove with the Queen in an open carriage to Buckingham Palace Tuesday he waved continuously to the lunchtime crowds. And the London crowds responded warmly with cries of "Vive de Gaulle."

Finally there was the magnificent, glittering banquet Tuesday night at Buckingham Palace.

And on the floodlit palace balcony afterwards he waved and opened his arms to the 100,000 which watched a breath-taking fireworks display.

The spokesman added that it had not yet been decided who now would be best man.

Fry, who has an engineering firm, has been a friend of Armstrong-Jones for years and it was at his home that the photographer and the sister of Queen Elizabeth spent several weekends before their surprise engagement was announced.

He also is an old friend of Prince Philip. They were at Gordonstoun School together.

REDS' TOP RECIPES GO WEST

LONDON (UPI)—The head chef at Communist China's London embassy has defected to the west and been granted asylum in Britain. It was announced today.

Simultaneously with the announcement the man was presented at a press conference where he told of his decision to seek freedom after six years' virtual isolation in the Chinese embassy.

Kou Teh-Lou, 40, told the press conference he sneaked out of the embassy on Feb. 26 while other staff members were attending a daily political indoctrination meeting.

It was the first time he had ever been in the streets of London alone, he said.

Refugee officials said today they believed Kou was the first member of a Communist Chinese diplomatic establishment to gain asylum in the free world.

Speaking through an interpreter, Kou said daily life inside the London Embassy is severely regimented.

Special permission must be obtained to go to a movie, he said, and then only in the company of three embassy members. Even to buy a pair of socks, he said, permission must be obtained.

He had two days off a month, during which he was required to clean his room.

Kou said he himself was obliged to engage in "self-criticism" of his work every three or four months, which meant confessing that he had prepared certain dishes poorly.

57 DROWNED IN SHIP WRECK

TEHRAN, Iran (Reuters)—Fifty-seven persons were reported drowned in the Persian Gulf today when their motor launch was wrecked in a storm.

Fifteen persons, including the skipper, survived, the newspaper Kelhan reported.

A violent storm has been raging in the area all week and the Abadan area has also been blanketed by a heavy dust storm which has reduced visibility to 20 feet, the newspaper said.

JEREMY FRY

... what's wrong?

ROYAL WEDDING

Best Man Bows Out 'For Health'

LONDON (UPI)—Jeremy Fry, 35-year-old heir to a chocolate fortune, withdrew today as best man at the forthcoming wedding of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones "for health reasons."

Rumors that Fry would not attend his good friend Armstrong-Jones had been current for days but the handsome millionaire denied them vigorously.

There have been continuing talks about Fry's participation in the wedding at Buckingham Palace and Clarence House and the decision that his health would not stand up to the long day of ceremonial apparently was taken this afternoon.

Fry himself made the announcement. He said he had acted on his doctor's advice but he did not specify the illness.

SUCCESSOR UNNAMED

A Clarence House spokesman said he did not know what was wrong with Fry who recently returned from a skiing holiday in Switzerland.

The spokesman added that it had not yet been decided who now would be best man.

Fry, who has an engineering firm, has been a friend of Armstrong-Jones for years and it was at his home that the photographer and the sister of Queen Elizabeth spent several weekends before their surprise engagement was announced.

He also is an old friend of Prince Philip. They were at Gordonstoun School together.

Guess it's no coincidence Canada's opened-up exports of gas to the States in a presidential election year.

Seems South Africa's remedy for a time bomb is to bang it with a hammer.

New Conflict Marks Arms Talks Stalemate

GENEVA (Reuters) — The disarmament conference sank deeper into stalemate here today as East and West exchanged bitter criticism.

The Soviet and Western delegates at the 10-power talks, now in the third week, accused each other of proposing hollow disarmament measures.

Conflict at today's 2½-hour session centred on the cut in armed forces announced earlier this year by Russia and the Western plan to pare the strength of military manpower.

The West has rejected a four-year disarmament plan presented by Russia and its four allies. The Soviet bloc has turned down the rival plan presented by the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy.

David Ormsby-Gore of Britain charged that Russia's plan to cut its armed forces by 1,200,000 men, announced January 14, was not a real disarmament measure.

Russia's Valerian Zorin challenged Ormsby-Gore to try to put that over on the people who elected him to Parliament.

Zorin said that if Ormsby-Gore claimed the Russian cut was not real disarmament how could he claim as genuine the Western proposal to set manpower ceilings of 2,500,000 each on the United States and Russia.

The British delegate, who is minister of state in the foreign office, retorted that he would tell his electors about the Geneva conference and if they didn't like it they could vote against him at the next election.

Ormsby-Gore said he did not believe the same could apply to Zorin.

Zorin blasted U.S. State Secretary Christian Herter for saying it was American policy to strengthen agreements for collective security against aggression.

Ormsby-Gore countered that it was necessary to increase security in the absence of a disarmament agreement.

FAMILY COURT COST OUTLINED BY GOV'T

Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson Tuesday said a firm outline of costs involved in establishing a joint family and juvenile court had been obtained from the provincial government.

Ald. Wilson was a member of a delegation that interviewed officials of the attorney-general's department on the financing question.

A special committee of Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay representatives will meet on Thursday at 10 a.m. to consider the delegation's report.

Auto Tax Cut Urged To Curb Import Threat

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA—Removal of the excise tax on automobiles was suggested Tuesday in the Commons by Hubert Badanal (Lib., Fort William) as a means to reduce imports of foreign-made cars.

He quoted figures during the budget debate to illustrate the growing share of the Canadian market by foreign cars. If they had been manufactured in this country, thousands more Canadians would have employment.

Canadian-made cars selling to the public at $3,000 paid $90 more in excise taxes than foreign cars selling at $2,000. By removing the 7½ per cent excise tax, the price spread between the two would be reduced by $90.

Consumers, he said, are sensitive to variations in the price spread between imported and domestic models. Removal of the tax "could have an important effect on the share of the market obtained by Canadian-produced cars."

The budget debate ranged widely over many topics with a Maritimes member, J. Chester MacRae (PC—York-Sun-

Just Crumbs From Half a Loaf

The government's decision to grant salary increases totalling $15,000,000 to 30,000 civil servants came in for detailed attention from Mr. Badanal.

He said that after the "brush-off" the civil service received from the government last year, he expected that a general increase for all 180,000 federal civil servants would have been announced in Finance Minister Fleming's budget.

"As far as the civil service is concerned, this budget can be labelled the half-a-loaf budget of 1960 to be divided among a fraction of the civil service body," he said.

Mr. Badanal and Frank Howard (CCF, Skeena) suggested that civil servants should be granted bargaining rights.

The debate was interrupted for one hour to consider private bills but CCF MPs Howard and Arnold Peters (Timiskaming) continued their campaign against divorce bills and none was passed.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Senator John F. Kennedy has hurdled another high barrier in his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination by winning the Wisconsin primary election in a head-on collision with one of his principal rivals.

Immediately, the Massachusetts senator said the election proved his vote-pulling power with non-Catholics, farmers and the labor unions.

Kennedy defeated Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota in six of Wisconsin's 10 congressional districts and in the battle for the total popular vote.

Vice President Richard Nixon, running unopposed in the Republican primary, trailed both Kennedy and Humphrey in the popular vote.

With 3,120 of the state's 3,446 polls reported, the totals stood: Kennedy 407,217; Humphrey 327,830; Nixon 312,847.

Even before the final count was in the vote broke the previous record, set in 1952, of 1,018,149.

'I Don't Hurt' Says Humphrey

Kennedy said he was "delighted" with the result. "I never took the view that we could win all 10 districts despite the pollsters. If we end up with 17 per cent of the Democratic vote we will be doing very well."

Humphrey said the election caused him no pain.

"I suppose numerically I'm the defeated candidate," he said, "but if I'm defeated I certainly don't hurt. In light of the predictions made, we have every reason to believe we did well."

The vote for Nixon also was open to interpretation. He had no opposition to stir his own party voters' interest, and he did not campaign in Wisconsin.

Four years ago, 438,000 Republicans cast ballots for President Eisenhower in a virtually unopposed election.

Kennedy minimized the part

Coming on the heels of his spectacular sweep in New Hampshire last month, this was Kennedy's second straight victory in an important presidential primary.

These primary contests are regarded as strong indications—even if negatively—of a candidate's chances for the presidential nominations. Had Kennedy lost he would have been regarded by party authorities as a poor bet to carry the Democrats' standard in the November election.

But because of the varying rules of these preliminary contests, his opponents—as well as Nixon the Republicans' already acknowledged candidate—have not yet conceded him too much.

played by his religion—he is a Roman Catholic. "I believe the people had pretty much made up their minds before the religious issue came up."

Kennedy's aides cited several areas as proof of his vote-pulling power among non-Catholics.

Both Humphrey and Kennedy took the occasion to comment happily on the vote for Nixon.

"Nixon did come in a wobbly third, just as I predicted," Humphrey said. "This certainly shows it doesn't pay to play tricks with politics."

"I didn't think Nixon would do as badly as he did here," Kennedy said.

But in Washington, Republican national chairman Thruston Morton said Nixon's vote was the greatest ever given an unopposed candidate in the Wisconsin primary.

Track Too Flat For Mother

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (Reuters)

The fastest girl on the track may be the flattest one in a strapless gown, an Australian coach implied Tuesday.

Percy (Iron Man) Cerutti, mentor of such leading Australian athletes as milers John Landy and Herb Elliott, sounded the warning in continuing his argument that women should not try to compete on the male level in sports.

Cerutti, whose remarks have touched off a controversy, said that if normal women "want to compete in field events with 308-pound monstrosities thrown up as women by other countries, they'll have to become more than womanly women themselves."

Such women would have "stringy limbs, hard faces and unwomanly shapes."

He mentioned one other component—"arrested bust development."

"Do we want to wait until our girls cannot become mothers before we draw attention to the danger?"

ROCKETS TO STUDY WEATHER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Scientists today scheduled a world-wide program of rocket firings to augment the work of weather satellites and get new information of vital importance in space launchings.

The rockets will study winds, pressures, humidity, and temperatures within the atmosphere up to altitudes of 40 miles. This information coupled with cloud cover pictures from satellites like Tiros II, will provide better

The Way of the Worry-Free

There's the high road and the low road — many are the lanes that lead from here to there.

The anxious road. The fretful road. The hazardous road — the rough and the smooth, the swift and the adventurous.

And there are those who think of all of these when they plan to go from here to there.

Ask the venturer who leaves his car behind why he rides with Canadian National Railways. Invariably you will find his reason in these half-dozen simple words — it's the way of the worry-free.

Luxury, restfulness. Quiet and roomy comfort. The courteous, the gracious air — all of these are there.

A Ludicrous Award

MAYOR SCURRAH AND THE

Victoria Police Commission are to be congratulated on their bid to reopen the recent 11 per cent wage arbitration award with the provincial Government. The extravagant decision—made by Mr. Fred Cope, who has been in this city just 18 months from Alberta—would place Victoria, the thirteenth city in population in Canada, ahead of Toronto, Ottawa, London, Windsor, Montreal and Calgary in salaries paid to police and firemen.

Mr. Cope, being new to British Columbia, apparently succumbed to the specious argument of the unions that they are entitled to the same pay as police and firemen in Vancouver. Anyone familiar with economic conditions on the Coast must realize that the two situations are not comparable. Vancouver is a heavily industrialized city with a trading area of some 750,000 persons to generate the resources it needs; Victoria is a residential city with one-fifth that number to draw on, and little industry.

The Victoria award was announced at a time when Vancouver is in negotiations, and is now in excess of the Vancouver rate. Inevitably, Vancouver negotiators will now use the Victoria decision as a lever for higher salaries on the mainland. Thus the cycle—and this is the third in a row—goes on, with the taxpayer a helpless bystander.

As it stands today, Victoria police and firemen will be paid approximately $7,150 a year, including fringe benefits, with Oak Bay and Saanich drawing a little less, on a formula basis. In other words, they are awarded a salary range considerably in excess of the average earned by their employers, the taxpayers.

While no citizen will begrudge municipal employees a decent living wage, he may be excused for believing that the fringe benefits in themselves (totalling $107.16 a month) are more than generous. These include holidays, superannuation, service pay, MSA, paid sick leave, uniforms and free telephone services. The award of 11 per cent goes on top of a total annual remuneration of $6,458.16.

Thus a police constable, whose educational qualifications are limited, finds himself in a better financial position than assistant professors at the University!

What services do these employees perform for their pay? In Oak Bay last year firemen spent 127 hours (about five days) on "fire-fighting time" and the bulk of these were chimney, grass, chestfield and car fires. Not long ago a survey revealed that one member of the force had been engaged for three years and during this time had not attended a single house fire. The men themselves would doubtless be the first to admit that in their four-day, 48-hour week, which allows them three days off, their chief occupational hazard is not danger but boredom.

Mr. Edwin E. Pearlman, who has earned a reputation as an expert in the field, is quite right when he says that "binding conciliation" leaves the taxpayer at the mercy of a single chairman appointed by the Government. He suggests a quasi-judicial hearing, as in Ontario, where County Court judges or other qualified personnel are used.

His proposals should be carefully considered by the Labor Department. Quite clearly, our present procedures are a farce, and a costly one.

Clearing the Way for Gas Exports

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT's decision to allow the export of huge quantities of natural gas to the United States will mean wide economic benefits for western Canada.

There will be immediate activity in discovery and development of new wells, as well as the investment of many millions of dollars in pipelines, processing plants and subsidiary industries. By-products from the refining process will add an important new element to the British Columbia and Alberta economies. There will be large new revenues from royalties and sales. Canada's claim to United States exchange will be increased by many millions of dollars annually.

The new developments, however, will be confined almost entirely to the West. While business and employment will benefit here, the main trouble spots in the Canadian economy—Quebec and the Maritimes—will unfortunately remain unaffected.

The new enterprises will help to take up the slack that had recently been noted in industrial investment and will in particular bring new life to Alberta where lack of markets had capped wells and tied up large investments. The national policy is now clear, and with 20 to 25-year export licenses the four major export companies can plan ahead.

It will be noted that despite the huge export figures—a total of 1,000 million cubic feet a day is involved—the National Energy Board has made sure that reserves for Canadian use will be adequate and that the prices obtained from export sales are fair.

The decision to export has been hailed as a "shot in the arm" for the Canadian economy and it should prove to be so, at least in the two western provinces.

Include Him Out

PREMIER DOUGLAS OF SASKATCHEWAN, the ablest politician in the C.C.F., does not propose to involve his Government in a political marriage with the labor unions.

Apparently he does not object, in abstract principle, to the creation of a new national party composed of the C.C.F. and any unions of the Canadian Labor Congress that care to go along. But in a long, careful and somewhat tortured statement Mr. Douglas announces that his own C.C.F. Government will remain absolutely independent in Saskatchewan.

"Let me make clear," says Mr. Douglas, "the position of the Saskatchewan C.C.F. regarding any new national party which may be formed as the result of discussions now taking place between the National C.C.F. organization and the Canadian Labor Congress. Such a move will not in any way affect the status of the Saskatchewan C.C.F. We are now affiliated with the national C.C.F. organization. The annual convention of the Saskatchewan C.C.F. will decide whether or not to affiliate with the new party if and when it is formed."

"If," he adds, "it is decided to affiliate with the new party, the position of the Saskatchewan C.C.F. will remain unaltered. This will not affect the provincial autonomy we now enjoy under our constitution and our policy will continue to be set by our annual constituency and provincial convention. Those members who are elected to the Legislative Assembly as C.C.F. candidates will continue to sit as C.C.F. members. If we form a government it will continue as a C.C.F. Government until such time as we go before the electorate in another provincial election. . . . If at any time other groups . . . wish to join our ranks we shall welcome them. However, this will in no way change the personnel, the program or the name of our party."

In the immortal words of the late Samuel Goldwyn Mr. Douglas seems to be saying to the unborn national party, "include me out."

This intimation is not in the least surprising. Many of the leading C.C.F. politicians and probably all of the party's members in Parliament are opposed to the projected marriage, believing that it will only weaken the very great effect which the C.C.F. has long exercised in national affairs, through its influence on other parties.

The Right Place to Speed

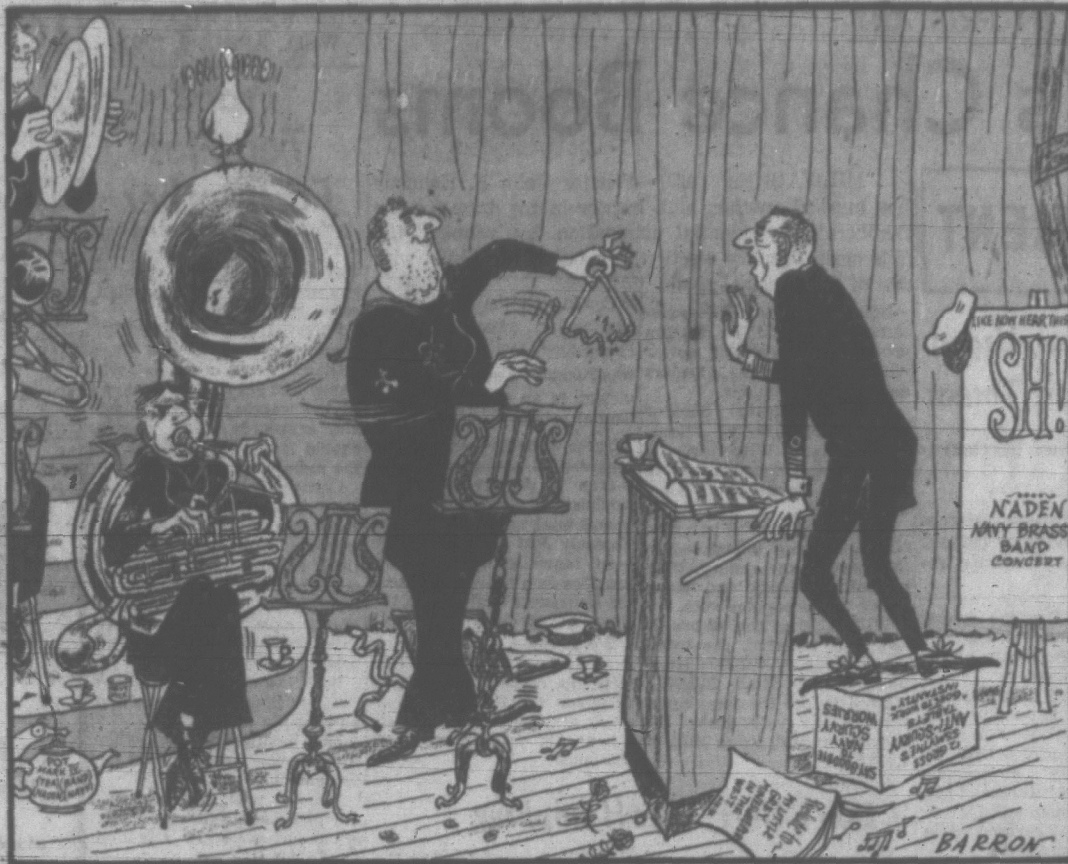

FOR several years those young men in this community whose particular hobby is developing fast cars from ordinary models have sought a drag strip. This is a stretch of hard-surfaced roadway on which they could test their cars for speed and themselves for driving ability.

The cost of such a project has appeared prohibitive. Last week-end's use of a section of the B.C. Cement Company's private road near Cobble Hill appears to have established an alternative both practical and satisfactory.

The company's road is private. It provides the physical facilities for racing at no risk to anyone but the performers and those closely associated with them. If a private concern is willing to allow its property to be used in this manner during off hours, it is to be complimented.

The virtue of a drag strip lies chiefly in the provision it makes for those who want to test their car speeds under conditions which fall within the law and jeopardize the public in no way. The sponsors of last weekend's event are young men who have shown a high degree of civic consciousness in their support of worthwhile causes in this community. They have earned respect,

"Hold it, everyone . . . STOP! . . . That's the second triangle you've wrecked this week, Nelson . . . perhaps you'd better go back on Soudaphone . . ."

IN A MANNER OF SPEAKING

Keeping the Air Free From Propaganda

By B. A. TOBIN

TORONTO (CP)—The CBC refused to allow an interview with Liberal Leader Pearson on last Saturday's Stanley Cup hockey game here because of the political implications.

Now, Mr. Pearson, I'd like to get this interview on tape just in case the CBC reverses its decision and lets us put it on the air. You realize, of course, that we must stay strictly with the hockey game; there must be no other references of any kind.

I understand. Fine. Well, now Mr. Pearson, what was your impression of the game tonight?

Well, I thought it was a good fast game. It looked towards the end as though Detroit was going to stage a filibuster.

Ah ah! Sorry, Mr. Pearson, we can't allow any political references. How did that final goal look to you?

Boy, it whipped in there like Laurie in '64. I thought sure—

Please! Mr. Pearson! What chance do you think Detroit has of squaring the series?

Well, about as much hope as Mr. Fleming has.

I'm sorry, we mustn't make any remarks that could be interpreted as being made on purpose. Did you feel the refereeing was up to scratch?

Oh yes, very good. But we must always remember that in the final analysis it's the people who must make the basic decisions, and—

I'm afraid we must close it off now, Mr. Pearson. Ladies and gentlemen, that was Liberal Leader Pearson giving his impressions of tonight's big game, and we—

Now Mr. Doakes, I understand you take a keen interest in the affairs of the day. I wonder if we might ask you a few questions for our listening audience. As a prominent hockey player, however, I must warn you that CBC regulations forbid any references to hockey on a political broadcast.

I understand. What is your opinion, then, of the latest federal budget?

Well, it's a good try. I guess, but it looks to me like they've iced the puck and—

Oops, sorry, we can't allow just that choice of words. Do you think that Mr. Churchill's trade theories will stand the test of time?

Frankly, I think he's been boarded. I'd figure on a new line going in any time now. Besides—

No, no! Please, we can't have such allusions. Do you feel that the Government's fiscal policy is succeeding?

It reminds me of the fourth game of the play-offs in 1957. It was the third period and interest was running high when—

I'm sorry, Mr. Doakes, that doesn't sound quite right for this broadcast. I'd be glad, though, to hear what you think of the present immigration policy.

I think there ought to be more players traded to even up the league.

Some of these rinks have wide-open spaces that ought to be filled up.

Thank you, Mr. Doakes. Friends, you have just heard Mr. Joseph Doakes, star defenceman of the Maple Leafs, discuss the current political scene . . . And now—

Now, Mrs. Marmaduke, I wonder if we might have your comments on the international situation? You realize, naturally, that CBC regulations do not permit the use of any references to the field in which you have achieved fame. Now perhaps you would care to analyze the South African situation?

Well, the government is using force, and what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. I mean—

Sorry, Mrs. Marmaduke, I'm afraid we can't allow quite that phrasing. What do you think of Mr. Khrushchev's threats regarding Berlin?

He's thrown everyone into quite a stew, but a watched pot never boils and—

Oh, please, that's a little beyond the permitted range of expression. Could you give us your comment on the new European trade agreements?

Well, I think things will be on the griddle for a while longer, but by giving the negotiations a good stir, they should be able to ladle out some benefits by the end of the year, otherwise they'll be in an awful pickle. Of course—

Wait, wait! I'm sorry, we'll have to close off the broadcast here. Ladies and gentlemen, you have just heard Mrs. Lola Marmaduke, the well known dietician and home-cooking expert, giving her opinion on world events. We return you now to—

MR. FLEMING'S BALANCING ACT

BY MAURICE WESTERN

In the Centre Ring, on the High Wire . . .

MR. Fleming's back-on-the-rails budget anticipates a formal surplus of $12 millions and the liquidation of last year's deficit of $24 millions chargeable to the old age pension fund.

He expects, in fact, a modest pension fund surplus. This is certainly a great improvement but it does not mean that the minister has yet been able to achieve a balance between income and out-go. Quite apart from the budgetary items, Mr. Fleming will require about $540 millions for housing loans, the capital needs of the CNR and TCA, and the several purposes of the St. Lawrence Authority, the Farm Credit Corporation and various other authorities.

As he can count on certain off-setting repayments, amounting to something over $300 millions and on his modest surplus, he must reckon on net cash requirements of about $240 millions.

But he will certainly not have to borrow on anything like the scale of last year when the corresponding figure was $900 millions or of 1958-59 when it was $1,273 millions.

This should improve the borrowing prospects of junior governments. Neither, of course, is he in the fortunate position of his Liberal predecessors who were able, not merely to cover from surpluses the costs of such improvements as the St. Lawrence Seaway but also to reduce the size and burden of our national debt.

Tortured Explanation

If Mr. Fleming's philosophy is clear enough in action, his explanation of it is curiously tortured. His problem, of course, is political; to be more specific it is his colleague, Mr. Gordon Churchill, whose disagreements with Mr. Coyne (and Mr. Fleming) have attracted so much critical attention.

Mr. Fleming attempts to ride with Mr. Churchill but to arrive with Mr. Coyne. Out of his colleague's marathon speech in the House of Commons he selects one sentence to the effect that "we must not be complacent." In the context of that remarkable address, which impressed observers as a forecast of roses, roses all the way, this selection should destroy the common opinion that Mr. Fleming is a man lacking a sense of humor.

We must not be complacent, it appears, because while the situation is sound (as Mr. Churchill says), it ought not to be allowed to continue (as Mr. Coyne has warned).

In his attempt to rescue Mr. Churchill, Mr. Fleming gets into the morass of economic heresy with Mr. Churchill—one of his sentences appears to relate our ability to service foreign indebtedness to Gross National Product, instead of to our foreign earnings. But he scrambles in the end on to Mr. Coyne's ground. Here are some sample Fleming observations:

"I do not anticipate that, if we manage our affairs prudently and properly, Canada will indefinitely continue to rely on capital from abroad as heavily as in the last few years."

"Admittedly, if a situation were to arise in which the economic environment or the financial climate deteriorated rapidly and radically, there would indeed be problems associated with past capital inflows . . ."

"We must place emphasis on greater productivity and efficiency rather than on sheer size, on cost control rather than on price increases, on greater saving rather than on excessive consumption . . ."

"Those who undertake commitments in terms of United States dollars or other external currencies expose themselves to the risk of having to repay at a time when the exchange rate for the Canadian dollar may be quite different from what it is today. This is . . . a danger which I clearly wish to stress."

From the standpoint of the general public the tax changes (other than tariff changes) are microscopic. The main interest of the budget is in the approach to solvency in our national accounts. Mr. Fleming has had a hard fight of it and he must look back wistfully on the days when he talked with such easy confidence of slashing expenditures by some $500 millions.

As Our Readers See It

Sign Bylaw

I sincerely hope the "sign bylaw" is not a dead issue. Are the press and the city council going to let the matter drop?

In view of the intelligent articles by Tony Emery and Ruth Enke and then, the timely article by Hugh MacLennan in the March 19 issue of Week-end Magazine, I should think there is enough convincing support for the bylaw to encourage the city council to give it favorable consideration.

WILLIAM D. WEST.

Bird Calls

I was glad to note the firm denial by our Minister of National Defence, the Hon. George Pearkes, of Mr. Heller's absurd suggestion that the Bomarc is a "dead pigeon".

It may perhaps be true that the country of its origin has now ditched the Bomarc. It is true that before the millions were committed I made a personal effort to point out the futility of this particular barrel of junk. It is also true that I thereby qualified for official remonstrances from the Defence Research Board, by whom I was then employed. I have documentary proof of these statements.

But to call the Bomarc a "dead pigeon" will be regarded as both flippant and in poor taste. A subject as serious as national defence should be treated with the gravity it deserves.

Besides, the Bomarc is not a dead pigeon. It is a dead duck.

Barbers' Hours

With reference to the news item regarding Barbers and Monday closing, I should like to clarify some of the statements made therein which tend to give an entirely erroneous impression of the situation.

For instance, the signatures of 32 barbers in favor of Monday closing happen to represent a good three-fifths majority of the licensed barbers in the city, many of whom are definitely not owners of single chair shops on the fringes of the city, but are operating in the city centre with one or more helpers.

The one or two barbers who may have signed without reading the petition for Monday closing, were fully aware of its purpose, and signified their approval by so signing.

The counter-petition opposing Monday closing was signed by 15 barbers only at a meeting which was anything but a "mass" meeting and attended by a small minority of barbers.

By this time the public should be well used to the changes which have taken place in shopping hours, and will be able to readily adjust to a change in barbers' hours also. It is the trend of the times to want to make the most of time available, and the minority should be willing to go with the majority in the up-to-date idea of two days together being better than two separate days, especially when the public will be getting the same service as before or perhaps a little better when the barbers begin to feel the benefit of their weekly two-day vacation.

Switching Over

Our minister of finance deserves credit for his courageous attempt at pulling the nation out of the red. Yet in giving Mr. Fleming full marks for his new lease on statesmanship it isn't easy to forget the "brinkmanship." The old doctrines gave rise to much confusion and alarm. Quite evidently they are now discarded in favor of more realistic fiscal approaches.

Good men yield when they know their course is wrong. But if the public mind in this instance finds it hard to reconcile itself with Mr. Fleming's metamorphosis can it really be blamed?

The recent evolution of our politics can't bolster one's faith in the democratic process. Rather it recalls to mind Churchill's (Sir Winston, that is) observation that democracy is the worst form of government—except all those other forms that have been tried from time to time.

No Peace

With all due respects to the sincerity and good intentions of the society with the name "Peace by Peaceful Means," that is an impossible aim.

Peace can never be obtained by peaceful means under present worldwide circumstances with, to quote a petition drawn up by the faculty of the University of Toronto, and now being circulated by the above-mentioned society, the "continuing and increasing danger of nuclear war," and, we might add, of every other diabolical kind of war—germ, poison, etc.

We should petition the government—the Queen—for an immediate Day of Prayer, and let all the churches combine to preach the truth and to warn of the danger of world destruction, unless we repent and obey the Law of the Lord.

Welcome, Nikita?

Could not the removal of the Holy Sacrament from the altar of the Cathedral at Rheims before the arrival of Nikita Khrushchev be considered an example of extreme intolerance?

If Khrushchev is a representative of a system of government for which perhaps most of us on this side of the iron curtain have no use, is he not nevertheless, before all, a human being, fashioned as are we all, so we are told, in the likeness of God?

If God is present in the Sacrament, was it not presumptuous to banish Him before the entrance into His house of one of His people, no matter how unworthy he may be thought to be? If God had spoken with human voice from the altar at Rheims, may He not perhaps have said, welcome, Nikita?

HAS MIRTHLESS MAC CLIPPED MERRY MR. MARPLES' WINGS?

By STEWART MACLEOD
LONDON (CP)—Bubbling little Ernest Marples, Britain's bustling transport minister who normally resides regularly on the front pages of newspapers, has suddenly piped down.

And the silence is almost deafening.

After taking over the transport folio last fall in a flurry of verbal fanfare, the 53-year-old former postmaster-general has been running a marathon course beneath newspaper headlines, stealing the spotlight from virtually all his colleagues and establishing himself as the Whitehall live-wire.

But it seems his bubble has burst. And nobody outside the cabinet knows how or why.

Only a few months ago, the bouncing Marples was whistling down the turnpikes of Germany and the United States, making declarations about the future of roads in England; investigating drunken-driving tests in Sweden; studying the feasibility of raised sidewalks in London and advocating the introduction of flashy uniforms for lady traffic wardens.

Now he's saying nothing. Douglas Clark, Daily Express political writer who was one of the first to notice the silence, says: "It is disconcerting. It is almost unbearable."

An indication that something may have gone sour in the cabinet was noticed recently when Prime Minister Macmillan took it upon himself to make a long, detailed statement about the future of British railways. This, by established practice, should have been Marples' show. But he simply sat and listened.

If Marples' wings have been clipped, it is bound to have a deadening effect on British politics.

As postmaster-general, he gained fame for getting telephone operators to exchange friendly comments with clients, and lesser police for reducing the waiting list for telephones by 75 per cent. He was always inaugurating new services, issuing apologies for closing old ones, and making sure his long-range ambitions for his department didn't remain secret.

Then he entered the transport ministry, and he did it with gusto. He rode on railways at rush hours and announced he would see problems from the eyes of commuters; he drove his car in rush hours, and when this got dull he told reporters how he used to break traffic regulations.

When there was absolutely no announcement to make, Marples drove up to the plush Savoy Hotel on a bicycle and made the headlines that way. And he was interviewed on television while he sat on a fence dressed in overalls.

On another occasion, one newspaper told how Marples and his wife run their Belgravia house with the efficiency of an airplane. Push buttons are everywhere and the day-to-day routine is carried out with split-second timing.

Marples, a small sharp-featured man with short curly hair slipping well back on his forehead, is a wealthy businessman in his own right, and before he entered Parliament he was a well-established chartered accountant.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Shortage of Sports Fiction

LONDON—The book world... It is a strange fact that despite the British pre-occupation almost—it is not considered a worthwhile subject for fiction.

Millions of Britons watch soccer for most Saturdays of the year and spend a vast amount of their spare time talking about it but not only am I unable to think of a best-seller with soccer as its background—I can't even recall one novel that used the theme.

One possible explanation, put forward is that novelists draw on their personal experience and the progression from pro football or pro cricket into novel writing is an unlikely one.

I think that a much more logical explanation lies with the publishers. Women form a huge part of the fiction audience, especially as regards lending libraries, so why virtually rule them out by offering them masculine goings-on at the sports grounds?

What prompted me to go off on this tangent was that a fellow named David Storey has pulled off a unique trick by writing a novel with a sports background which is rushing into the best-seller lists.

What makes This Sporting Life an even more clever trick is the fact that the theme is of the lesser game of Rugby League, the pro form of rugby which is almost confined to the north of England.

Storey learned the atmosphere the hard way by playing this toughest, most brutal form of football for four years with the Leeds team.

It may prove to be a turning point. With its success, other publishers may hasten to get in on sports fiction.

9 New Ministers Ordained Here By 'Witnesses'

Close to 1,000 persons attended a three-day Jehovah's Witnesses assembly just ended at S. J. Willis Junior High School.

District supervisor George Saltmarsh, speaking in opposition to growing materialism, termed it "a great threat to happiness and peace as it ignores mainly man's spiritual need."

Nine new ministers were ordained and symbolized their dedication by water immersion.

Local speakers appearing on the platform were Clifford Roberts, presiding minister of the Victoria congregation, William Milliken, Gerald Brookall and Peter Nelson.

Watering Trickiest Of Greenhouse Jobs

At this time of year, everything in the greenhouse needs attention immediately, or so it seems.

The plants which have been dormant must be watered, pruned and repotted. Seedlings must never suffer from being left in the seed box too long. Pricked out seedlings will need a little shading for the first few days, and light spraying with water.

Watering indeed becomes the trickiest job of the greenhouse schedule. On sunny days, the pelargoniums, arums, fuchsias and ferns will need to be filled to the brims every morning.

DANGER OF CHILL
Since clouds may come over the sun at any moment, it is undesirable to use the hose for watering in the greenhouse just now, for superfluous moisture on a dull day will cause either excessive growth, or a chill.

With two or more cloudy days in succession, all plants will need individual checking, some receiving enough water to carry them over until a sunny day, others getting nothing.

RETAIN FOODS
Feeding of pot plants is most beneficial if given in liquid form on a sunny day after a regular watering. The soil is then well moistened, and will admit and retain the food for the roots. Feed only those plants either in bud or flower, or foliage plants in full growth.

Ventilation is welcomed by the plants so long as cold draughts are not allowed to blow on them.

A little experience soon advises the gardener when his greenhouse has exactly the pleasant buoyant atmosphere his plants appreciate.

FOR DEATH RISE

Faster Zones Blameless Says Gagliardi

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi still insists that 60-mile-an-hour zones in British Columbia have nothing to do with increasing traffic deaths.

Mr. Gagliardi says RCMP officials have assured him the higher speed zones are not to blame for a 216 per cent increase in fatalities in February, rising to 19 from 6 last year.

He added that the increase is still being investigated and he hopes to have more details soon.

Meantime, the B.C. motor vehicles branch reported 12 highway fatalities in March compared with 16 in March of 1959. This was the first reduction in highway deaths recorded for many months.

But there have been 53 fatalities up to March 31 this year compared with 36 for the same period last year.

Bennett Still Plays Coy On Election

Premier Bennett laughed away talk of an early provincial election Tuesday by saying: "That is the last thing I am thinking about. I want the people of B.C. to get their minds off elections for a while and concentrate on strengthening our economy."

He added that "with wise policy and united effort we can pull out of it," apparently referring to a recession.

At his first press conference since returning from a vacation, the premier answered a battery of questions about the next election but was as vague as ever. It could come in 1960 or not until 1961 according to the "best interests" of the province.

Asked about a by-election in Oak Bay following the death of P. A. Gibbs, the Liberal member, he replied: "It will have to come in due course—I don't know when."

More Polio At Burns Lake

Two new cases of polio have occurred at Burns Lake, the B.C. health department reported Monday.

This brings the total number of polio cases at Burns Lake this year up to 21—and two of these were fatal.

So far this year 31 polio cases have been reported in British Columbia.

Le Grand Charles Sees Touchy Ally

By DAVE OANCIA, Canadian Press Staff Writer
President Charles de Gaulle's visit to London comes at a time when the Anglo-French entente is not as cordial as it might be and when Anglo-German relations appear to have reached an extreme low.

A cautious Prime Minister Macmillan and dedicated "Le Grand Charles" are meeting privately to examine some of the trouble spots endangering Western unity.

The latest storm blew up over reports of some of Macmillan's conversations in Washington about the economic future of Europe. But the roots of the trouble go far deeper.

"Look at it in terms of power politics," said a seasoned Western diplomat. "Then the pieces may fall into place."

BRITAIN'S PROBLEM

Seen from this angle, Britain's discomfort seems easy to understand. Britain is in danger of becoming isolated in the Western alliance.

And she is being pushed down the scale of world powers by the relentless drive of six nations to achieve economic union.

'Make Millions From B.C.'

Canada's federal government will "make millions" out of British Columbia if the province accepts its offer of a loan to finance the Columbia River power project, Premier Bennett said Tuesday.

The premier confirmed that the federal government has offered B.C. a loan at one-eighth of 1 per cent above the market interest rate.

He estimated that, if B.C. accepted a $1,000,000,000 loan on these terms over a 40-year period, the federal government would make about $30,000,000 out of it.

"ON OUR OWN"

"If Ottawa gives us a loan at the best rates, we will accept," the premier said. "Otherwise we will go out and get financing on our own through the B.C. Power Commission."

Recent speculation has centred around a loan of $1,400,000,000 but Premier Bennett said no specific sum has yet been mentioned.

He said he is still trying to get from Finance Minister Fleming a firm commitment on a quoted statement by External Affairs Minister Howard Green that Ottawa would share half the cost of the Columbia River project.

"As yet there have been no firm commitments from Ottawa," he stated.

Premier Bennett still believes the Columbia and Peace River power projects should go ahead "together." He says both will be needed to meet the power needs of the future.

Scurrah Gloomy On Pay Protest

Mayor Percy Scurrah Tuesday night said he had little hope that an arbitration award to police and firemen will be reopened or that the city will be able to head off a one-way street system.

He discussed both subjects in a speech to the North Klamath Club.

The mayor said he was "not too optimistic about the results" of a city council request that Labor Minister Lyle Wicks' order reopening of an arbitration award giving police and firemen an 11 per cent wage increase.

"I think it's about time the poor old taxpayer is given some consideration," Mayor Scurrah also said that a one-way street system will be introduced in the "not too distant future."

Council will not consider it immediately, "but it looks as though we're going to be forced into one-way streets."

Violence Marks Protest Against Korea Election

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A presidential election and "Reign, Syngman Rhee government."

Scores of police moved quietly along the street on both sides of the demonstrators. The government had threatened to break up any political rally denouncing the March 15 elections, but apparently had ordered the police not to provoke an incident.

Western sources said it was possible that the presence of a delegation from the International Press Institute, in Seoul to investigate the state of press freedom, had something to do with the police restraint.

The parade, which began with 200 participants, became more and more disorderly as the marchers swelled to 2,000 in number. Several demonstrators attacked a plain-clothes detective and manhandled a uniformed officer when they tried to block sidewalk spectators from joining the marchers. Stones were hurled at other police.

Witnesses said a large number of the youths and several policemen were injured. Scores of the youths were arrested for questioning.

The youths' charge occurred toward the end of a protest parade led by members of the National Assembly and the Seoul city council, and other Democratic party leaders.

The angry demonstrations by opposition Democrats reached a climax when 200 Korean youths clashed with police in a futile attempt to force their way into the presidential mansion.

Witnesses said a large number of the youths and several policemen were injured. Scores of the youths were arrested for questioning.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — We heard about an attractive brunette who came home from beauty parlor wearing a new silver wig she'd bought for the Easter parade.

Her husband didn't recognize her that night and finally said, "By the way, where's my wife?"

Since the gals around B'way, Hollywood and the country have flipped their wigs over

Easter wigs, there've been several cases, with the help of some special makeup jobs, too.

When Betty Furness first wore one, I wouldn't have known her if she'd had her ice-cream door with her.

The cute gal singer, Connie Francis, changed her personality completely with a wig she got down at Beauty City.

"It's going to be a great Easter for wigs," Prop. Larry Mathews said, patting Greta Thyssen on the wig professionally, as she sat getting fitted. "Mama-Gabor-got-one. Zsa Zsa's supposed to have 12 wigs."

Norma Mathews, his wife, spoke up. Some wives'll be buying wigs instead of hats or dresses, she said.

"Oreheads," "frosted," and "tutti-frutti's" tipped in 12 different colors, will be very popular, they assured me.

The more prominent wig-wearers are Jane Mansfield, Jane Morgan, Barbara Nichols, Virginia Graham — and Alan Freed's attractive wife, Inga.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ... Will Frank Sinatra and Co. broaden out into the N.Y. night club field? Frank, incidentally, denies he's going into the talent agency racket; only "personal management."

Joey Bishop's line: "We gave Dean Martin a handsome cigarette lighter, and he emptied it in one gulp." ... Jimmy Durante's fiancée, Margie Little, is here with him while he plays the Copa and he says: "We will (get married) not just yet—but sometime."

Eddie Fisher and Liz bought property in Jamaica, will build a home there. ... Anne Bancroft's date was auto heir Mario Ferrari, just in from Rome. ... TV exec Adria Koe married Houston jeweler Steve Chazanow at El Rancho Vegas. ... Cary Grant dined solo at the Forum. New back to London. ... Artie Shaw said at the Metropole: "Jazz is a young man's game—that part of my life is over."

Shelley Winters picked up a $400 tab when she took the visiting Russian dancers around local spots. ... Harry Belafonte wanted to buy an off-B'way theatre, but his business manager said Nope.

Victor Borge's take for five concerts last week: $60,000. ... The Duke of Windsor's starting a fashion trend: jacket cuffs an inch wide. ... TV-film star Robert Paige, who busted up with his wife, is dating Joanne Smith. ... Patti Page's book, "Once Upon a Dream," went into its second printing. ... Marlon Brando sliced off 15 pounds on a high protein diet.

EARL'S PEARLS: Isn't it strange how nobody'll listen to your advice unless you happen to be a doctor or lawyer, and charge for it.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions by letter to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a Hammond set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and at the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Teddy Blamires, aged 12, of New Plymouth, Idaho, for the question:

Where Does the Water Go When the Tide Goes Out?

On most beaches, the water rises and falls six to eight feet with the changing tides. The thing to remember is that these rising and falling tides affect the seas of the entire world. In mid-ocean, the surface of the water rises and falls only two to three feet. Certain coastal formations funnel the moving tides and this makes for unusual conditions. In the Bay of Fundy, the difference between high and low tide may be 50 or 60 feet.

No beach, no bay, no little estuary feels the tides by itself. Each is part of the watery movement which takes place over the entire globe. When the tide ebbs from a beach, extra high tide water is piling up somewhere else, just as when you tip a pail of water the surface rocks back and forth.

A 60-foot tide is an awesome sight. The mountain of water, charging forward and upward, seems bent on destruction. But let's consider the size of the entire globe. Its diameter—a line through the middle from side to side—is almost 8,000 miles. A variation of 60 feet is not much. Nevertheless, the water at low tide has to go somewhere.

It seems logical to suppose that the opposite side of the globe has high tide while we are having low tide. Perhaps all our lost water piles up on the opposite side of the earth. But this is not so at all. The fact is, the opposite side of the world has low tide when we do — which still does not explain where the water goes at low tide.

There is, of course, only one place where it can go. It piles up between us and the antipodes — the opposite side of the globe. While the two opposite sides of the globe are having high tide, the sides between them are having low tide.

Moon Main Force in Tide

The tide is high, of course, under the moon—for most of the tidal action is caused by the pull of the moon's gravity. The pile of tidal water under the moon pulls at the ocean waters clear around the globe. It draws from the waters on all sides, making low tide areas half way around the world. This reduces pressure on the waters of the antipodes. It pulls back and piles up in a high tide of its own on the far side of the globe.

The spinning earth faces the moon with first one side, then another. High tide is felt by the side facing the moon and this extra water is drawn from the low tide areas half way around the world. A corresponding high tide piles up on the opposite side of the earth.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Patricia Mena, age 11, of Dallas, Texas, for her question:

What causes thunder?

A clap of thunder sounds like a resounding explosion—which is exactly what it is. It is caused by a searing flash of lightning which plows a path through the moist storm cloud. The lightning, of course, is a powerful discharge of electricity and it is very, very hot.

The streak of lightning heats a narrow path of air through the cloud. Air, like most other things, expands when hot and this slice of air is very hot indeed. It must expand, but the moist cloudy air all around it is in the way. There is only one thing the hot air can do. It explodes, bursting its prison walls with a clap of thunder.

Navy Scores Direct Hit

By AUDREY JOHNSON
Music that was infectious and spirited delighted a capacity audience at the Royal Theatre Tuesday night when the Royal Canadian Navy Band of HMCS Naden was presented in concert by the Armed Services Centre.

Assisting was the RCN Band Choir and guest vocalists Ruth Champion, soprano, and Stanley Martin, baritone.

FOR MIXED TASTES

Band numbers were well chosen, designed to appeal to an audience of mixed tastes and, under the leadership of Cmdr. Officer W. J. Gordon, played not only with high technical competence, but with a comprehension of musical character and with the "style" that is the mark of any indisputably first-class musical ensemble.

Intonation was, to a high degree, secure; timbre and tonal texture skillfully related to the subject; climaxes brilliantly developed but at all times firmly controlled.

ANNUAL EVENT

It is good to note from the program that this event may become an annual one. If it does it will be something to anticipate with real pleasure.

Guest artists, Mrs. Champion and Mr. Martin, were of a calibre to suit the occasion, both being mature, technically assured in performance and possessing rich, powerful voices. Incidentally, however, the band accompaniment did tend to be somewhat overpowering at times.

Mrs. Champion's "One Fine Day" (from "Madame Butterfly") was appealingly lyrical and showed off the purity of her upper ranges, while in "Granada" her sparkling personality came into full play. "Old Man River" was given a full measure of color and character by Mr. Martin, but the splendid resonance and operatic beauty of his voice was at its best in Mozart's "Non più Andrai."

CHALLENGE FOR "BB"—Vittoria Prada, starlet from Milan, is followed by children as she runs barefoot through streets of Rome to keep her figure in shape. Vittoria has challenged French sex-kitten, Brigitte Bardot, to a "duel of figures." Bardot has not replied.

Toll Bridge Workers Owned Plane, Lodge

OTTAWA (UPI)—Montreal port manager Guy Beaudet said Tuesday a former $164-an-hour toll collector on the Jacques Cartier bridge owned an airplane and two others a "very extensive hunting lodge" in the Laurentian Mountains.

Beaudet said he turned this information, as well as the makes of the cars driven by collectors who appeared to be living beyond their means, over to Montreal taxation officials. He also told a Commons committee he tried to get two RCMP officers planted as toll collectors on the bridge in 1958 to check on irregularities. The RCMP decided not to pursue this course, he said, when they learned a CNR probe had begun. Grant Campbell (PC-Stromont) said irregularities would have been stopped 10 years ago if undercover men had been called in then.

GOVERNOR, WIFE PROBABLY ON CHERISHED GUEST LIST

Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Frank Ross are likely to attend Princess Margaret's wedding in Westminster Abbey, London, on May 6.

No official confirmation was available at Government House today but a report from London indicates that Mr. and Mrs. Ross will be invited.

They will in any case be in London at that time, as Mr. Ross has to attend a company meeting there early in May and has booked hotel accommodation for himself and Mrs. Ross.

Invitations to the wedding, numbering 2,047 in all, were mailed in London today. If they include an invitation to Mr. and Mrs. Ross it should reach here next Saturday by air mail.

The list of guests is secret.

but high officials who have given hospitality to Princess Margaret in recent years are expected to be invited. The princess stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Ross during her centennial visit to Victoria in July, 1958.

Use the Naran Plan to Lose Ugly Fat

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home-recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take this into a pint bottle and add enough two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Accept no substitutes—Insist on NARAN CONCENTRATE Available at all druggists

ORIOLES GOING AFTER SUPERMARKET SHOPPERS

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Orioles are joining the trading stamp movement to boost attendance at their baseball games.

Lee Macphail, Oriole president, announced Tuesday an agreement with a supermarket chain which will allow its customers to redeem its stamps for reserved baseball seats.

Three-fifths of a book of stamps will be worth a $2.25 reserved seat or an equal amount toward purchase of the highest priced $3 box seat.

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — Hollywood actors are on a strike and someone said that maybe this would get Ingemar Johansson back in boxing.

JOSE BECERRA
mass magnetism

"I wish our little guy was a heavyweight," said George Parnassus, who has managed fighters and promoted fights in Los Angeles for 40 years.

Our little guy is, of course, Jose Becerra, the handsome Mexican bantam who has put the little fellows in the big money.

"He's the best fighter pound-for-pound in the world today," said Parnassus, addressing a group in his office at the Olympic Auditorium on South Grand Avenue.

"And until Johansson boxes Sonny Liston he'll be the best attraction."

Parnassus is the promoter who won a $5,000 wager from Crying Bill Rosenzweig when his Carmen Basilio-Art Aragon welter match out-drew Floyd Patterson and Roy Harris in Los Angeles in August of 1958. Basilio knocked out Aragon before a $230,521 worth of customers.

"Becerra has never had a card like Becerra. Neither has any other promoter — at 118 pounds.

Becerra belted out Alphonse Halimi for the second time in defence of the bantam championship before 38,000 people and a record California gate of $383,000.

Carlos Ortiz knocked out Raymondo Torres on the same bill.

"It was the first time that the huge Los Angeles Coliseum was used for any sport other than football or baseball said Parnassus proudly.

"Several days before the fight, Takashi Teukahara popped his head through this door. Who is Takashi Teukahara? Well, here's his card. What does it say there? 'Member of Congress. Shinjuku ward representative. Instructor, University of Nihon.' He also promotes fights in Japan and has a lot of money.

"What will Becerra get for this fight?" he asked, just around $40,000.

"I'll give him that and all expenses to defend the title against Renji Teukahara in Tokyo," he said. "So the 18 round match was made for May 20, with Becerra given seven round-trip tickets, five from Mexico."

Parnassus didn't have to ask when a bantam ever got a guarantee like that? Or when there was a home-town attraction worthy of assuring a bantam boss that kind of a purse.

"I've never seen a little fellow like Becerra," Parnassus went on. "Our little guy has mass magnetism. He captured the imagination of the finest people in Mexico, has many of them going to fights for the first time.

"I have just returned from Mexico City and I'm conservative when I say that at least 1,000 Mexicans will fly to Tokyo for this fight. I personally made 70 reservations at the Imperial and other hotels in Tokyo.

"Because he is aggressive and is always looking to take the other guy out with a punch, which he can do, Becerra draws the real fans as well as new ones.

"Give us a few more Jose Becerras and they won't have to investigate boxing.

"These kind make things perfectly clear."

Giants Look for Long To Hide Shortcomings

By Associated Press

The pennant-conscious San Francisco Giants, steeped in front-line talent but weak on the bench, are doing their best to shore up their shortcomings.

Short on pinch-hitters, the Giants bolstered their major weakness Tuesday with the purchase of power-hitter Dale Long from Chicago Cubs.

The Giants, beaten by St. Louis, 9-5, Tuesday as their exhibition record dropped to 10-11, also have strengthened their bench with the trade that brought Jim Marshall from the Boston Red Sox in return for pitcher Al Worthington.

In another trade Tuesday, the Kansas City A's swapped pitcher Bob Grim to Cleveland for relief specialist Leo Kieley.

TURN BACK SEPARATORS
The A's, meanwhile, boosted their spring record to 13-10 with a 14-5 victory over Washington and the Indians defeated the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers, 8-4.

Daryl Spencer plagued his former San Francisco teammates, homering in the ninth for the Cards to break a 4-4 tie and ignite a five-run rally.

Ellis Burton also homered for St. Louis while Jimmy Davenport, Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey connected for the Giants.

Ray Herbert became the first Kansas City pitcher to hurl nine innings and also smacked a grand-slam homer in Kansas City's 13-hit attack.

The home-run hitting highlighted Tuesday's Grapefruit League action. It was the greatest barrage of this spring with 27 round-trippers stunning pitching hopefuls — and probably blowing a few of them back to the minors.

The sluggers held sway just about everywhere in the sunny climes. The only game that failed to produce a homer was the Milwaukee Braves' 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

REGINA (CP) — After several weeks of indecision, Regina Senators have decided to withdraw from baseball this season and it is possible the proposed Western League will fall with them.

President Can Bissett said Tuesday the original plan to include Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Saskatoon and Regina in a league was the best one and when it went by the boards, the future of any other setup did not look promising enough to warrant a try.

FIGHT RESULTS
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Zora Foley, DB, Chandler, Ariz., outpointed Clarence Williams, SB, Bayview, Calif., in a 10-round decision.

OAKLAND, Calif. — Johnny Gonzalez, LBK, Oakland, outpointed Bobby Schell, 10, 10.

LOS ANGELES — Doug Valiant, 128, Cuba, outpointed George Berry, 138, Los Angeles, 10.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Manuel Gonzalez, 127, outpointed Rip Randall, 140, Tyler, Tex., 10.

India's Netters
In Second Round
COLOMBO (AP) — India defeated Ceylon 5-0 in the first round of the eastern zone Davis Cup tennis eliminations.

India meets Thailand in the second round.

India won both of the final singles matches Tuesday after clinching the series Sunday with a victory in doubles.

Surrey Next on List for Island's Boxers

CANADIANS EDGED 4-3

Singles Settle Uber Cup Clash

BOSTON (CP) — New Zealand and Denmark will meet in Baltimore Thursday for the right to play the United States in the finals of badminton's Uber Cup competition.

New Zealand won its way into the challenge round finals Tuesday night with a 4-3 comeback decision over Canada.

The winner of the New Zealand-Denmark match will take on the defending champion U.S. team in Philadelphia Saturday.

New Zealand, down 2-1 after the afternoon matches, swept a pair of singles and a doubles match to ensure the victory over Canada with one doubles match still to go.

In the final analysis, Canada's collapse in singles cost any chance of victory.

Sonja Cox, New Zealand's singles queen, and Heather Robson were the two players who sparked the successful comeback.

Miss Cox opened the evening session with a decisive triumph over Toronto's Mari Shedd in straight sets, 11-4, 11-3.

Mrs. Robson staged three spectacular comebacks to pull out of a 9-12, 11-7, 12-11 win over Winnipeg's Joy Campbell.

Miss Cox teamed with Betty Meyer to fashion an uphill, 13-15, 18-16, 15-7 victory over Mrs. Jean Miller of Montreal.

Joan Hennessy of Toronto, Canada's No. 1 player, in the doubles.

Celtics' Cousy Take-Charge Guy

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Celtics, once again paced by the brilliant Bob Cousy, Tuesday night outran St. Louis Hawks, 127-102 and took a 3-2 lead in their final National Basketball Association play-offs.

Sixth game of the best-of-seven series for the title now held by Boston will be played in St. Louis Thursday. The seventh, if necessary, will be here Saturday.

Cousy, who had been plagued by one of the worst slumps of his 10-year professional career, won a standing ovation from a Boston Garden crowd of 13,909 when he was given a breather mid-way through the second period.

By that time, he had led a charge in which the Celtics outscored St. Louis 23-6 and improved a 25-24 lead to 48-30.

From then the Hawks played a futile game of catch-up, but just couldn't make it. The closest they came was eight points in the third period. Boston led at all the quarter marks, 34-26, 65-53, and 95-78.

Tommy Heinsohn, the game's high scorer with 34 points, was the scoring gun for the Celtics, but Cousy was the big difference. He finished with 21 points and 10 assists after hitting only six field goals in the three previous games.

Only the scoring of Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan kept the Hawks in the game. Pettit had 25 points and Hagan 28.

The Celtics played the last five minutes with their entire second team on the floor.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fats... actually breaks them down. It is an established fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fats are broken down and form a smooth, easy-digesting mix.

In your digestive tract, liver bile helps break down fats the same way. Many of the foods you eat reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down these fats... for easier and more complete digestion.

So when you feel sluggish, head-achy, nervous and need a laxative, take Carter's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carter's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fats in your digestive tract.

Pay Boosts To Keep Union Out?

VANCOUVER — William Lowe, vice-president of the Office Employees' International Union (OEU) said pay increases up to $400 a year have been given to bank employees to keep them from joining a union.

Mr. Lowe said the raises were announced at employees' meetings where bank officers also made a statement on the role of unions.

The OEU is attempting to organize the estimated 6,000 bank employees in British Columbia. Bank officials would not comment.

William Gault, CLC representative in Victoria, said "we have our ears to the ground, but have heard of nothing to this effect here."

Old Police Pay 'Fair, Adequate'

Hold-the-Line Bid In Minority Report

A minority report released today recommended that city police and firemen get no wage increase this year.

It was made by W. Linden Bell, civic nominee on an arbitration board that gave the police and firemen an 11-per-cent wage increase last week.

Meanwhile, a tentative appointment was made by Greater Victoria civic officials to meet Labor Minister Lyle Wicks Friday morning to protest the majority award.

Mayor Percy Scurratt, city manager C. C. Wyatt, Saanich Reeve George Chatterton and Oak Bay Reeve Murdoch are scheduled to ask Mr. Wicks to order reopening of the award.

The city pay scales are used as a basis for determining police and fire wage rates in the other two municipalities.

ADEQUATE, FAIR
Mr. Bell said, that after considering the evidence brought by the two sides before the board:

"I cannot recommend any increase in wages or any changes in the current agreements, as I feel the existing wages are adequate, fair and just for the services rendered."

Referring to the firemen's request for a 16.2 per cent increase, he said:

"With all due deference to the Victoria firefighters and their union, it seems to me that such requests are made as a matter of form and without any consideration as to whether the benefits are adequate, fair and just for the services rendered."

BIG DIFFERENCE
A portion of his seven-page report quarrelled with the existing machinery for arbitrating police and firemen's disputes.

He pointed out that a normal conciliation board was appointed and given the task of arbitrating although "there is a substantial and fundamental difference between the duties of such boards."

He also disagreed with the majority report's decision to use New Westminster as a basis for Victoria contracts.

"It is my firm opinion that Victoria should not be tied to Vancouver, New Westminster, or any other place in order to establish a wage rate for the Victoria firefighter. I maintain each area has its own problems to settle."

Woman, 74, Dies After Tumble From Second Floor

Seventy-four-year-old Mrs. Alice Wild, who suffered multiple fractures and internal injuries from her bedroom window March 17, died at 5:30 a.m. today at St. Joseph's Hospital.

It was expected that an inquest would be announced by Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart.

Mrs. Wild was admitted to hospital with broken legs, wrist and elbow after she fell from a second-storey window at Beacon Hill Rest Home, 635 Superior, landing on concrete steps. There were no witnesses.

For a time the woman's condition improved but she suffered a relapse after a few days and a further setback after a second operation.

Wandering Boys Spent Night In Bank Project

Three small boys with wanderlust who disappeared from home Tuesday afternoon spent the night in a construction project, city police said when the trio was found at 9:50 a.m. today.

Arnold Twamy, nine, his six-year-old brother Philip, both of 626 Dunedin, and 11-year-old John Perry, 515 Gorge East, were none the worse for their adventure when they were spotted by a motorcycle policeman and juvenile officer on Quadra near Kings.

The construction job is a bank addition on Hillside at Quadra.

The Perreys notified police at 10:15 p.m. after the boys, who played together, were not seen since 5:15.

NATION-WIDE LEAP TO GET THEFT SUSPECT

A Colwood RCMP constable travelled 7,129 miles across the continent and back to arrest an 18-year-old theft suspect expected to be assigned today.

Const. J. G. O'Neill returned to Victoria early today from Halifax, the home of a former Royal Roads Canadian Services College officer candidate, who is charged with theft of articles of over and under $50 value from the school last December.

Police said a possible third charge, of theft over $50 value, may be laid.

Charges were to be read before Magistrate A. L. Thomas today.

Jail Term For Stove Salesman

Two soldiers were fined and a salesman was sent to jail in theft cases dealt with in city police court today.

Clarence Wilson MacFarlane, 150 Douglas, was sentenced to three months in jail for theft Feb. 26 of two electric ranges valued at $450 from C. J. McDowell Plumbing and Heating Ltd., his former employer. He pleaded guilty.

Police said the salesman was in charge of the shop on a Friday night when he had two stoves put into storage and sold one of them, blaming his drinking for the act.

Magistrate William Ostler noted it was "a culmination of excessive drinking and a history of 'living close to the line' that brought the man before him."

"It is probably good luck more than anything else that you have no previous record," he said.

CAR PARTS
The Work Point soldiers, Franklin K. O. Peterson and Joseph Raymond Harper, each were fined $75 when they were found guilty of attempting to steal car parts from the junkyard of Industrial Iron & Trading Co. Ltd., 343 Tye, on March 17.

They were checked near a partly-demolished car by Const. John Kelly at 8:30 p.m. There were tools and an auto jack next to the car and their own car was parked on Tye Road.

Const. Kelly said Peterson told him they were looking for a spring for another car.

"If you had found one, would you have taken it?" he asked. "I guess so," he quoted Peterson as replying.

Street Floods As Dynamite Bursts Main

About 20,000 gallons of water flooded lower Douglas Street Tuesday when a dynamite explosion ruptured a 12-inch water main at Humboldt and Douglas.

Water was shut off from 4:30 p.m. to midnight from Yates to Humboldt along Douglas before the damage was repaired.

The dynamite charge was set off by Farmer Construction Co. employees blasting rock for an underground wiring project.

City's Aged Miss Out On Free Pork

'Never Notified' Claims Spokesman

Thousands of cans of free pork are being distributed among old-age pensioners' organizations across Canada—but so far not a single can has reached Victoria pensioners.

"We have not been notified of this distribution as yet," one official said, "but we shall certainly apply for it."

"There should obviously be a fair allocation to all old age pensioner groups including the three branches in Victoria."

These are branches No. 1, 2 and 5, and there are 13 other branches on Vancouver Island.

30,000 TO VANCOUVER
The Senior Citizens' Association in Vancouver—a separate body—has already received at least 30,000 cans of pork for distribution among its 5,000 members.

But there is no branch of the association on Vancouver Island.

The distribution of free pork in B.C. is being made by the provincial government's social welfare department on behalf of the federal department of agriculture, which bought up large surplus stocks of canned pork last year.

NO DISCRIMINATION
"It is available to all charitable organizations which are non-profit-making and are registered under the 'Charitable Societies Act,'" G. Claude Watkins of the welfare department in Vancouver said today.

"Any such group, including all old-age pensioner organizations, can apply to me for an allocation. There is absolutely no discrimination."

Mr. Watkins said any eligible Vancouver Island group applying for the pork will receive a fair allocation of what is available—and there will be no freight charges.

City Firemen First Into Nuclear Age

A Vancouver claim to be the first in Canada with a nuclear age fire department was shot down by Victoria Fire Chief James Bayliss today.

A course in radiation monitoring for Vancouver firemen started Tuesday and was expected to conclude May 20 with the third of three lectures.

Victoria's 76-man fire department was given a radiation course, including practical work in monitoring, in a six-lecture series totalling 12 hours for each man between October and February.

"If that's the same course, we predated them by several months," the chief said.

Civil Defence training officer Frank Burrows gave Victoria firemen their course in radiation and monitoring fundamentals, including the danger of industrial accidents where radioactive materials are used.

Vancouver district fire chief's cars were to be equipped about May 20 with monitoring devices to detect the presence of radioactive materials.

Chief Bayliss said he could see no particular advantage here in carrying this equipment in fire department vehicles because it is available through civil defence.

The Easter lily and all other wildflowers are protected by law in Beacon Hill, Mount Douglas and Thetis Lake parks.

Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, today urged parents to teach their children to pick wildflowers with restraint as a safeguard against their extermination.

"I personally don't like to tell a child not to pick wildflowers," he said, "but if the practice of picking indiscriminately continues many species will disappear from this area."

He was particularly referring to the factor of seed dispersal.

3 New Cars 'Kin' Bingo Top Prizes

Three new 1960 cars will be offered as prizes at the 19th giant bingo game to be held by Victoria Kinsmen Club in the Memorial Arena on Monday, May 2, at 8 p.m.

Among the $10,000 worth of prizes will be TV sets, Spode china, hi-fi sets, tape recorders and garden outfits.

There will be a special bonus prize for competitors purchasing their tickets between 10 a.m. this Thursday and 5 p.m. April 23.

They will have a choice of $500 in cash, $750 in goods or a seven-day all-expenses-paid trip to Hawaii, the Calgary Stampede, Banff, Mexico or Alaska.

All proceeds of the game will go to the Kinsmen Air Cadet Squadron and Kinsmen Gorge Park.

Clouds on Horizon But Mildness Stays
Skies will be mostly clear tonight and Thursday morning, but there will be clouding over Thursday afternoon or evening, according to the weather office.

Mild weather will continue, with a minimum temperature tonight of 42 degrees and a maximum Thursday of 60.

Ex-Quarantine Launch Goes To Pilotage

The former quarantine launch Salucan V was transferred today to the B.C. Pilotage Authority, and its name changed to B.C. Pilot No. 7.

Quarantine officers now are put aboard incoming ships in the same launches carrying pilots from the Dallas Road station to the freeway buoy off Brodie, Ledge.

The Victoria pilotage authority now operates four launches.

Big Hydroplane Here for Show
Miss Bardahl, huge unlimited racing hydroplane from Seattle, has arrived here in the Vic-Van Isle Kinsmen three-day boat show, and is being groomed for the show opening Thursday evening at the Victoria Curling Rink.

She arrived by truck from Nanaimo Tuesday night, and her engine, which is removed for travelling, was lifted into place this morning.

T. E. Gustafson, representing the Sikorsky company, said if an order were received "now," delivery could be made by May, 1961.

Mr. McPherson foresaw an end to conventional air travel between Vancouver and Victoria by 1963, because helicopters are "so ideally suited to this particular run."

A panel discussion on the growing of "mums" will be held at a meeting of the Victoria Chrysanthemum Society at the City Hall Thursday at 8 p.m.

A 25-cent-an-hour increase has been won by Victoria area plasterers in negotiations with the union.

The new wage working agreement is effective April 1 and ends on April 1, 1961. It provides a basic wage of $2.30 an hour.

Vancouver plasterers Tuesday won a 10-cent increase in a one-year contract ending March 31, 1961, which provides a basic wage of $2.95 an hour.

Victoria Public Library board Tuesday approved 1960 estimates of $197,000 and passed them on to Greater Victoria municipalities for consideration at budget sessions. The total was up 11 per cent from last year, mainly to cover salary increases. No extension of services is planned.

Mayor Percy Scurratt Tuesday indicated that he will retire from civic politics when his current two-year term is completed next year. "You won't see me many times more, I'm on my last lap," he told the Victoria North Kiwanis Club.

Imported Materials Make Wonderful Easter Outfits

By PENNY SAVER

What woman can think of Easter without planning some brand new outfits for spring? Materials have never been more fascinating than they are today. A new one, just in from France, is a combination of Egyptian cotton and rayon. This combining of materials has resulted in an interesting texture that will give your new sheath or duster coat an expensive Parisian look.

Material comes in two designs of various color combinations. One is a contemporary design, while the other has groupings of Spanish dancers. Intriguing material is low priced at $4.95 a yard. Another good feature that shouldn't be overlooked is that it won't crush or crease.

If you're planning a new suit or coat it would be well worth your while to see the mohair and wool suitings that sell at $5.95 a yard. I've seen others priced at almost double this figure that are almost the same in appearance. Lovely muted color combinations are available to suit every taste. Overcoats, houndstooth, cashmere and wool blends and luxurious bouclés are included in range.

I've noticed that more and more of my friends are using arrangements of artificial flowers and blossoms in their homes. Placed carefully, they can become eye-catching centres of interest. Store I was in this week has modernistic table centres, composed of unusual ceramic containers and flowers, priced anywhere from $3.95 to $13.88.

One particularly smart setting has apple blossom and roses arranged in a lovely black and white mottled ceramic bowl. Arrangement is priced at $6.88.

For information on any of these items give Penny a ring at EV-2-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You'll Have Fun and Benefit by Bike Riding

Nothing can take the place of specialized exercise but sports and outdoor exercise have great advantage also.

There are several forms of exercises which can be indulged in at practically any age if they are not overdone. I am thinking of walking, golf, swimming and bicycle riding.

Bicycle riding always has been extremely popular in many countries. In fact, as you know, it is the main mode of transportation in some. In recent years it has gained great popularity in Canada. Bikes are no longer just for children but for their elders, too.

The importance of exercise is being greatly emphasized today by the medical profession. Pedalling is a pleasant way to burn calories, for weight control, and it also builds health. It is not strenuous since you can take it as easy as you wish. It has been recommended as a splendid health exercise by physicians.

In a number of communities groups of senior citizens have formed bicycle clubs. This has become a highly popular form of recreation. One of these clubs has a stringent membership requirement—the applicant must be at least 60 years old.

Exercise helps to dissipate weariness. Fatigue is the greatest obstacle to a happy, useful life. Its best antidote is physical when one feels tired. Over and over again it has been demonstrated that physical activity at the end of a trying day brings a degree of freshness and renewed energy that nothing else can.

Work some sort of exercise into every day. When you can't go for a longer ride why not wheel to the market or bike on any nearby errands you must do?

Miss MacLaren

Mrs. Warner

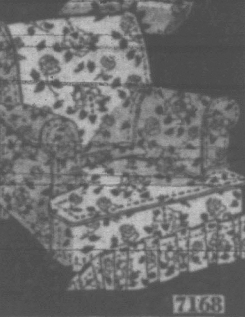

Visit in City Today

Miss Margaret MacLaren, superintendent-in-chief, nursing divisions, and Mrs. W. P. Warner, chief nursing officer of national headquarters, St. John Ambulance, Ottawa, arrived in Victoria this morning for talks with members of the order here and others interested in the organization's work. They are on tour of St. John centres in Western Canada.

Both officers are discussing the program of training and the many opportunities for volunteer service for members of the brigade. Mrs. Warner is also talking to nursing authorities to enlist support of the home nursing program.

The St. John officers motored to Victoria from Nanaimo and are registered at the Empress Hotel. This afternoon they met nursing and health officials at 2:30 in the Order's headquarters. There will be a general meeting with Victoria Cadet Nursing Divisions at St. John headquarters from 6:30 to 7:30 and, at 8 p.m., a general meeting and social hour with Victoria Nursing Divisions and Spoke Auxiliary Division (feminine members).

The visitors return to Vancouver on Thursday. Mrs. Warner went overseas as matron of Canadian General Hospital in 1946, served at headquarters, London and Ottawa, and was matron-in-chief in Canada from March, 1944 to September, 1945. Her husband, the late Dr. W. P. Warner, was hospitalier of the Order of St. John in Canada and surgeon-in-chief for a number of years. Mrs. Warner was appointed chief nursing officer at national headquarters, Ottawa, in March, 1953. She is presently president of the Ottawa Chapter, District No. 3, Registered Nurses Association of Ontario and is a member of the public relations committee of the Canadian Nurses Association.

DEAR ABBY

Some Doctor Will Cure Her!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who is getting on in years, is causing me much embarrassment. She lives alone and is able to care for herself financially and in every other way.

She is as healthy as a horse but her favorite pastime is calling up doctors. She insists on talking to the doctor himself. When she gets him on the phone she'll talk his ear off.

She refuses to go to their offices. She just likes to call them up and talk about it herself. She has done this to almost every prominent doctor in town.

(One doctor sent her a bill stating that he had spent more time on the phone with her than he does on the average house call. Who could blame him?) What can I do about this situation? My mother isn't the kind of person you can reason with.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: There is no need for you to feel personal embarrassment. Almost every doctor has had experience in treating "talkophobes." Let each one handle it in his own way.

DEAR ABBY: I was amused to read in your column that you couldn't understand why grown men permitted themselves to be called Bobby, Billy and Jimmy. Look at Bobby Jones, Jimmy Durante and Billy Graham! And Winston Churchill doesn't mind being called "Winnie" and even you, Miss Van Buren, are called "Dear Abby."

TODAY'S RECIPE

FIG-NUT BREAD

One cup chopped figs, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 2 table-spoons butter or shortening, 1 cup boiling water, 2 beaten eggs, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 1/2 cups pastry flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Sprinkle figs with baking soda. Add and mix in the butter or shortening and the boiling water. Let stand until cool. Into the beaten eggs beat 1/2 cup brown sugar. Add egg and sugar to cooled fig mixture and combine well. Sift, then measure 1 1/2 cups pastry flour, re-sift with salt. Sift and mix flour into fig mixture, adding the chopped nuts. Turn into a well-greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees Fahrenheit, 45 minutes for two small loaves, longer for large loaf.

A simple little flower in his water glass with a little gift tag on which you have written 'I Love You, You Gorgeous Beast' adds spice to his dinner. Buy little gifts, even if only a pack of his favorite cigarettes, to put with his shirt, when you lay out his clothes each morning. Don't mention it. JUST DO IT. And when you bring him his coffee to bed, hand him a cigaret (without lipstick on it) which YOU have just lighted. These little gestures keep him intrigued & alert that YOU are kind of special. He'll get a kick out of your sneaky feminine ways.

home I visited had 'I Love You' in gold lettering all over the wallpaper. The trouble with the American woman is, you are SO busy being his equal & buddy, that you wait for him to make the first considerable move. You'll wait TILL YOU KNOW WHEN, before he'll make the first move. When it reaches THAT stage, the only move he'll make, is down the street to some other little nest. There, some thoughtless little chick is probably whipping up lots of little unmentionables to keep him amused, and busy, and loveably silly."

S. Rayner, DSC, CD, RCN; Commodore J. Deane, CD, RCN; Mr. T. Pallas, institute secretary general; Mr. Harold Elworthy, Mr. H. Wallace, Mr. John Logie, also Mr. William Dey and Mr. A. A. Stephens, both of Vancouver. Choir of engineering apprentices from Naval Technical School will entertain during the evening.

Farewell Party

Spring flowers decorated Ganges home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Stevens on Salt Spring Island for farewell party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. P. Frederick prior to their departure for Kelowna. Hosts for affair were members of the badminton club. Guests of honor were presented with a tray. Dancing and games were enjoyed. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. L. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. K. Dods, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. D. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kaye, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kaye, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tomlinson, Miss Pehle Mochuk, Messrs. M. Cantrell, R. Crawford and W. Haig.

Teas for Bride

Daffodils and tulips decorated rooms at home of Mrs. G. E. Rice for two troupeau teas given in honor of Mrs. Rice's daughter, the former Miss Sheila Maxine Rice, who became the bride of Mr. Claude R. Bugslag recently. Mother of groom, Mrs. P. Bugslag, presided at tea table for both teas. There were 70 guests.

To Scotland

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Mossie left the city Saturday en route to Ayr, Scotland, where they will make their future home. Before sailing in the Empress of Britain, which leaves Montreal in mid-April, Mr. and Mrs. Mossie will visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Southall of Seattle. The Mossies have lived in Victoria for the past nine years.

For Miss Nicolson

Honoring Miss Janet Nicolson, Easter bride-elect, Mrs. Gordon Shields recently held a shower at her Prior Street home, "Nicolson School," in white, yellow and green, held gifts in compliment to the groom-elect, Mr. Kenneth Leighton. A woodfibre corsage of pink carnations made by Mrs. J. E. Fletcher, West Vancouver, was presented to Miss Nicolson. Her aunt, Miss Mary Nicolson, and Mrs. M. Leighton, mother of the groom-elect, both received small Swedish crystal vases of heather, centred with a carnation. Other invited guests included Mrs. R. D. Matthews, Mrs. G. Bowcott, Mrs. H. Nicolson, Mrs. H. Wetherell, Mrs. P. White, Mrs. J. Woodward, Misses, Eileen Huck, Phyllis Nicolson and Kay Nicolson.

Baby Named

Archdeacon G. H. Holmes officiated at a recent christening ceremony in St. George's Church, Ganges, Salt Spring Island, when the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Winter, of Victoria, was given the names David Keith. Godparents, all of Victoria, are the baby's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bryant, and Mr. S. Winterbottom. Following the ceremony a family tea was held at the Rainbow Road home of the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Moutat. Other special guests from Victoria included Mr. and Mrs. J. Winter, paternal grandparents, and Mrs. N. Carswell, a great-grandmother.

House Guest

Mrs. W. C. Woodward has as her house guest at Woodwyn Farm, Saanichton, Miss Dorothea Sweeney, Miss Sweeney, whose home is at Haney, will be a guest of Mrs. Woodward until her departure for England in the Bataan, April 16.

Bride Honored

Prior to her marriage Saturday to Charles Roberts Bugslag, former Miss Sheila Rice was guest of honor at a shower given by Mrs. Dai MacLeod and Mrs. Doug Shortt at the Brighton Avenue home of the latter. Bride was presented with a corsage of red roses and white carnations. Corsages of pink carnations were received by her mother, Mrs. G. E. Rice, and groom's mother, Mrs. P. Bugslag. A coffee table was presented to guest of honor by 24 guests attending. Bride's cake centred the head table, at which Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Bugslag presided.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Tripp, 2652 Blackwood Street, have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miriam Francis, to Mr. Albert Marlyn Hafer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hafer, 6980 East Saanich Road. The wedding will take place on May 14 at 3 p.m. in Centennial United Church. Rev. S. J. Parsons will officiate. Miss Tripp is a member of the 1959 graduation class of St. Joseph's School of Nursing. — Photo by Chesters.

Provincial IODE Partners National

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, was called a partner in the million-dollar business done by the national organization Monday night when its 47th annual convention opened.

Of Personal Interest

Bon Voyage Party

Tiny planes and ships were arranged in a setting of japonica and camellias that centred the head table at a bon voyage party given by Mrs. T. H. Johns at her home on Somass Drive, Tuesday. Guests of honor, who will all be visiting Europe this year, were Mrs. P. S. Moore, Mrs. R. L. Chaloner, Mrs. Kenneth Reid, Mrs. H. G. Ellis and Mrs. Lluir Plak. Mrs. Andrew McKellar presided at the head table and servers were Mrs. Hart Henderson, Mrs. F. M. Corbett and Mrs. Jack Gillespie. There were 24 guests.

On Cruise

Dr. and Mrs. Sidney C. Ellis of Victoria and Ottawa are sailing aboard the Orient and Pacific Lines' RMS Himalaya to Japan, Hong Kong and Singapore. They'll fly home to Canada in July, going to their Ottawa home in Rockcliffe Park. They spent the winter in Victoria. Dr. Ellis chose this trip as a way to mark his 82nd birthday in September. For many years he was with the federal department of mines, and traveled extensively in the Far North, becoming known as "The father of the Alberta tar sands industry." Also sailing aboard the Himalaya is James K. Nesbitt, Victoria columnist, who is travelling in the ship to Hong Kong as the ship's temporary press liaison officer.

Marlene Barratt Wed in St. Mary's

Tulips, daffodils and stocks decorated St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay, recently for the marriage of Marlene Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barratt of Victoria, and David James Thickett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Thickett, also of Victoria. Canon Hywel Jones officiated at evening service.

For her marriage, bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon sheer, with basque bodice, lily point sleeves, scalloped neckline accented by iridescent sequins and floor-length skirt slightly en train. A fingertip veil was held by a coronet of sequins. She carried a cascade of Tulleman roses and white carnations. Maid of honor, Miss Heather Beasley and bridesmaids, Miss Sylvia and Miss Anne Baird wore identical shrimp-toned dresses. Their feather pandoux were en tone. All carried colonial bouquets of white carnations centred with tiny rosebuds.

Raymond Phelps was best man and ushers were Lorne Thickett and Don Frewing. Guests were received at a reception in Golden Slipper Supper Club.

Newlyweds cut a three-tier wedding cake with knife belonging to Mr. and Mrs. D. D. McTavish. H. Mortimer, Vancouver, proposed bridal toast.

'Old Lamplighter' Wins the Prize

Titles of songs were exemplified in costumes worn by those attending party, hosted recently by Xi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, in the St. Charles Street home of Miss S. Merkle. Prize winner was Erma McCulloch, as "The Old Lamplighter."

Special guests were members of Omicron Chapter. Games were played and a smorgasbord supper enjoyed.

During the evening a travel clock was presented to Miss Shelagh Fagan, Xi Chapter member, who is leaving shortly to become a hostess with Trans-Canada Air Lines. Present from Omicron Chapter were Mrs. R. Frenetto, Mrs. H. Court, Mrs. M. Fisher, Mrs. J. McArthur, Misses Erma McCulloch, Jean Chowen and Lea Higgins; from Xi Chapter, Mrs. W. Bonnell, Mrs. P. Campbell, Mrs. W. Coles, Mrs. J. Hall, Mrs. G. Leacock, Mrs. R. Murray, Mrs. Y. Oakley, Misses Joanne Bennett, Shelagh Fagan, Phyllis French, Shirley Merkle and Audrey McCormick.

At Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mortimer of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. G. Baardson of Nanaimo, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Evans of Salt Spring Island were out-of-town guests at recent wedding of Miss Marlene Barratt and Mr. David J. Thickett in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay.

Leaving on a wedding trip to the mainland, the bride donned an orchid-toned wool dress, beige coat and brown accessories.

FIRST EVER FOUND ON GULF ISLANDS

Flying Squirrel Fails In Last Bid for Freedom

Provincial Museum officials Tuesday nearly lost the first flying squirrel ever found in the Gulf Islands.

The little mammal, which scientists believed only existed in forest areas on the mainland, was brought from Quadra Island for museum biologist Charles Guiguet to examine.

But it escaped into the main building Monday night. A live trap was used to capture it in the legal surveys office. The squirrel was then put to sleep and its skin preserved.

Few people have ever seen a flying squirrel. It's a nocturnal animal and lives in wooded areas.

The outstanding feature of the squirrel is its loosely-fitting skin that is extended in a broad fold when it leaps from tree to tree.

They don't exist on Vancouver Island. Until this week, there has never been a record of a flying squirrel found on the Gulf Islands.

3-Mill Tax Hike Set for Sidney

SIDNEY—Village commission here approved an $82,342 budget Tuesday night which will call for a three-mill tax increase.

It is estimated that taxes will rise about $8 on a $10,000 home.

Commissioner Mrs. Mildred Roberts, finance chairman, who delivered the budget, said that in view of the $50 homeowner grant, this is a good year to increase taxes.

Commissioner T. A. Ales voted against it, saying the grant had not been made in order that municipalities could take it.

Major items are schools, $37,800; public works and capital expenditure, $17,000; administration, $9,500; sanitation and waste removal, $5,000; contingencies, $1,000; surplus, $4,000.

The pika, or cony—a small relative of rabbits and hares—is active all winter in the western mountain regions.

Mrs. Pitt Funeral On Friday

(From Duncan Bureau) Funeral services will be held in Duncan Friday for Mrs. Nellie Pitt, 79, resident of Duncan for 49 years and a member of the St. John's Anglican Church Women's Auxiliary, who died in King's Daughters Hospital Tuesday.

"She was born at Pershore, Worcestershire, England, and came here in 1911.

Predeceased by her husband, Charles W. Pitt, in 1944, and one son, Eric D., in 1938, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Medley, Ladysmith; two sons, Sidney, Nanaimo, and Donald, Duncan; nine grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. Two sisters in England and a brother in Rhodesia also survive.

TWO HORSE SHOWS ON EASTER WEEKEND

(From Duncan Bureau)

Cowichan riding and pony clubs have scheduled two horse shows at Duncan over the Easter weekend.

On Saturday, April 16, many junior riders of the district will show their ponies under Canadian Horse Shows Association rules, starting at 9:30 a.m. on the new Cowichan Exhibition Grounds riding ring, north of Pioneer Park in Duncan.

Inspector F. C. Errington, Vancouver, will judge the pony club riders.

Easter Sunday the Cowichan District Riding Club will hold the annual Easter hunter trials at the J. Deacon farm on Drinkwater Road.

Vancouver Island western riders will demonstrate western games and horsemanship on the farm grounds.

DUNCAN BACKS CHANGE-IN FERRY ROUTE

DUNCAN—The Chamber of Commerce will seek to have the Brentwood-Mill Bay Ferry re-routed so it will connect Cherry Point area with Deep Cove on the Saanich Peninsula.

Members feel the proposed route would provide a more direct service for motorists using the Tsawwassen-Swartz Bay ferry.

PROGRAM SET

Cross-Country Skiing Trip For 'Rambblers'

Island Mountain Ramblers will start their recreation program for the year April 15 with a three-day cross-country ski trip through Forbidden Plateau to Mount Albert Edward.

Other events scheduled for the year are a climb to Mt. King George V and Castle Crag in Strathcona Park, May 21-23; climb to Mt. Khasan, near Kelsey Bay, June 11-12; hike to Della Falls and Howe Lake in Strathcona Park, July 1-3; Mt. Arrowsmith climb, July 23-24; and a camp in Garibaldi Park, Aug. 7-14.

Trip to Victoria Peak area north of Strathcona Park Aug. 13-21; cross-country tour from Phillips Ridge to Mt. McBride in Strathcona Park Aug. 27-Sept. 5; Mt. McBride climb Sept. 3-5; and Mt. Argus climb in Comox Glacier area Oct. 8-10.

Up-Island representatives are Miss Connie Bonner, Cobble Hill; Syd Watts, Duncan; Jack Ware, Ladysmith; W. McEachren, Alberni, and G. Capes, Courtenay. Victoria representative is J. P. Weir, 630 Foul Bay Road.

PRESIDENT of Duncan branch, British and Foreign Bible Society, is Will Dobson, elected to his second consecutive term. Donald C. Morton is secretary, and Harvey Lowe treasurer. All ministers of Duncan area churches are vice-presidents.

Slump Hits N. Cowichan Construction

(From Duncan Bureau)

NORTH COWICHAN—The March building permits issued by North Cowichan municipality had a total value of $71,643, compared to $84,234 last year.

In the first three months of 1960 building permits have decreased by $41,946 from the 1959 level to a total of $127,193.

Two permits for new commercial buildings totalled $12,663. Six new residential permits were valued at $47,000.

Rush of South Africans Seeking Entry to Canada

ASYLUM PLEA BY CCF CHIEF

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was asked Tuesday to consider granting political asylum to Negroes who are fugitives from South Africa. External Affairs Minister Green was non-committal in reply to Hazen Argue, CCF House leader.

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI)—More than 650 South Africans sought information in the last week on how they might emigrate to Canada and Australia. It was learned today.

The figure is more than twice the normal rate. Officials at the offices of the high commissioners of the two commonwealth countries declined to comment on the suddenly high interest in possible migration from South Africa.

It was felt they wished to avoid embarrassing the South African government at this time of racial tension and outbreaks.

It was reported, however, that the Canadian high commissioner had been receiving inquiries at the rate of 50 a day recently, compared to the normal 10-a-day rate, and that inquiries at the Australian high commission average 300 a week against a normal 200.

Cooley Re-Elected

GANGES—E. C. Cooley, Campbell River, has been re-elected president of the Vancouver Island Hospitals' Regional Council.

Arthur S. Lightfoot, also of Campbell River, was returned as secretary.

About 190 delegates attended the two-day spring meeting of the council, a division of the B.C. Hospital Association.

COMMUNISTS STAGE PROTEST

TORONTO (CP)—Thirty members of the Communist party staged an hour-long demonstration Tuesday outside the Yonge Street office of the honorary trade commissioner for South Africa.

Bearing placards with messages such as "end apartheid and terrorism" and "protest police massacre in South Africa," the demonstrators walked up and down the sidewalk behind Sam Walsh, chairman of the Communist party's metropolitan Toronto committee.

Undue Force by Police Not True, Says Minister

CAPETOWN (Reuters)—Justice Minister Francois Erasmus said Tuesday night charges that South African police were using undue force in dealing with Negro rioters were unsubstantiated.

Erasmus said firearms and other weapons likely to cause serious bodily injury were used only when circumstances called for stern action.

"Over the last few days it has been very difficult for police and armed forces to bring rioters under control," he said.

Before police intervened, he said, "shocking cases of in-

GET BACK ON SCHEDULE

Millions of people have found a way to correct constipation caused by lack of bulk in the foods they eat. It's the Kellogg's All-Bran way—the way that has been proved to be safe, reliable and pleasant.

Kellogg's All-Bran helps promote regularity because it is a whole-bran cereal—and bran is nature's best bulk-forming food. Just a small serving—half a cup—with milk each day gives your system all the good food bulk it needs to work the way nature intended.

Try eating wholesome, appetizing Kellogg's All-Bran with milk every day for 10 days. See if it doesn't work for you, too.

Important! To all friends of MAYFLOWER Margarine: THE NAME'S BEEN CHANGED TO Imperial

"NEVER PAY 70¢ AGAIN" SAY HOUSEWIVES AFTER TASTING NEW MARGARINE

Hundreds of women taste-tested completely new, completely different Imperial Margarine and the great majority of them agreed: "You can't tell the difference between Imperial and the high-priced spread."

imperial margarine

At last! The taste that's been missing in margarine—imperial has real natural taste

TRY THIS TASTE TEST FOR YOURSELF! Spread a piece of toast with completely new, completely different Imperial and another with the "high-priced" spread. Taste them both. See if you don't agree with hundreds of other housewives who couldn't tell the difference between Imperial and the "high-priced" spread.

TRY IMPERIAL ANY WAY YOU LIKE—on fresh bread, on muffins or on hot vegetables. The answer is always the same—Imperial has the taste that's been missing in margarine—real natural taste!

YOU'LL FIND IMPERIAL SUPERIOR IN MANY WAYS. It gives your family the same nourishing quality all year round. It stays fresh longer. It spreads smoother and easier.

SO WHY PAY 70¢ EVER AGAIN for a table spread, when you can enjoy Imperial's real natural taste for so much less.

Like the 70¢ spread, Imperial is sold only under refrigeration. Look for it in the refrigerated counter at your grocer's today!

BELGRADE (Reuters)—The agreement was reached with the U.S. government and the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission on more extensive co-operation in the future. Naksienovic has returned from a month-long visit to the U.S. and Canada at the head of a Yugoslav delegation.

U.S. HUDDLING

SEATTLE (CP)—The Times says the Canadian and United States delegations plan to prepare a joint proposal to present to the international conference of law at sea at Geneva.

Sea Limit Showdown Near, Opponents Afar

GENEVA (AP)—The United Nations conference on the law of the sea is expected to vote this week on proposals defining the extent of territorial waters and fishing rights. A coastal nation may enjoy beyond its sea border. The 87-nation conference opened March 17 and ends April 14. Most delegates felt the opposing views remained as far apart as ever Tuesday. The four main proposals for a universal sea code came from the United States and Canada—both suggested a six-plus-six-miles formula territorial waters and coastal fishing rights—and from the Soviet Union and Mexico—favoring a maximum 12-mile limit for the territorial seas. All four proposals differ greatly on questions of fishing rights. The United States, supported by Britain and Sweden, insists that fishermen who traditionally operate in foreign coastal waters should be entitled to continue fishing off foreign coasts between six-mile and 12-mile limits. Canada demands that a maritime nation should have exclusive fishing rights up to 12 miles. This view is shared by nations seeking to protect their coastal fisheries from better-equipped foreign competitors. Mexico, with support of most of the Latin-American and African-Asian countries, says each nation should be free to set its own sea border up to 12 miles. In addition, Mexico thinks those nations that prefer a smaller territorial sea should be rewarded by additional exclusive fishing rights in some cases stretching out to 18 miles.

FOREIGN AID TRIMMED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives foreign affairs committee formally carved $136,500,000 of economic aid out of President Eisenhower's $4,175,000,000 foreign aid program Tuesday—a comparatively light cut.

This, however, was merely a first-round skirmish in the annual foreign aid battle. The big test lies ahead when the House appropriations committee passes on the actual money bill.

The foreign affairs committee also voted to cut off aid to Cuba unless the president specifically authorizes continuation. Some $350,000 in technical assistance is involved.

Caribbean Going Red Says Trujillo

MIAMI (AP)—Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, long-time dictator of the Dominican Republic, says the West has already suffered a rout at the hands of Communism in the Caribbean.

In a series of articles written for the Miami Herald, the avowed opponent of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro paints a gloomy picture of Communist successes and Western apathy in that strategic area.

As for his own country, Trujillo declares he will hold free and peaceful elections in 1962 "if they are not deliberately disrupted by calculated aggression from Cuba, Venezuela and Puerto Rico."

Trujillo says a pro-Communist Latin American labor front is taking shape and thousands of youths and intellectuals are being duped to join a similarly controlled Latin American youth movement.

Western news agencies will be forced to flee the area in the face of a Communist takeover of newspapers, magazines, radio and TV stations.

There will be an increased flow of open and concealed

Communist arms to the area with the over-all major goal the isolation of the United States.

Trujillo also says: The U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay and the Panama Canal are the next likely trouble spots.

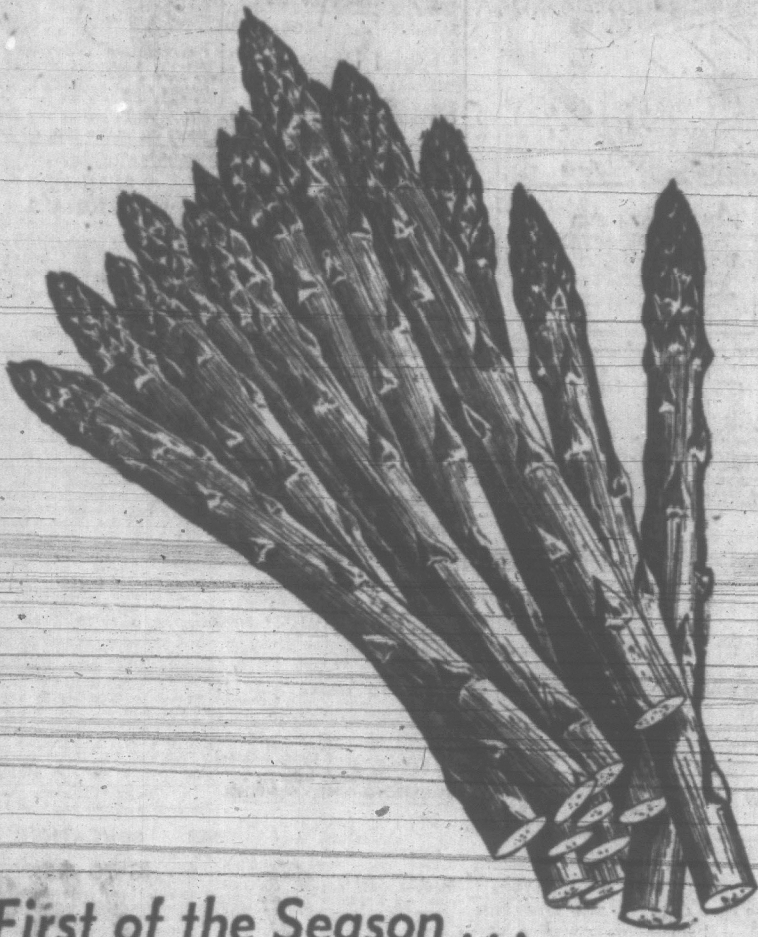

The cocker spaniel, a small hunting dog now widely popular as a pet, is believed of Spanish origin.

CANADA'S POPULATION ROSE TO 17,732,000 BY MARCH 1

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's population reached an estimated 17,732,000 on March 1 after a one-year gain of 392,000 or 2.3 per cent, the Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday.

The bureau said the gain in the nine months up to March 1 was 290,000—an indication that the country's population will hit the 18,000,000 mark around year's end if that rate of gain continues.

ALLEY OOP

LOOK! IT'S JUST AS THOUGH HE'D HEARD WHAT YOU SAID!

YEP! HE'S LAYING IN A SUPPLY OF WATER FROM THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH ALL RIGHT!

THE OLD BOYS GETTING SMART!

AW, ANY FOLK HAVE ENOUGH SENSE TO DO THAT AFTER BEING WASHED BY HIS HORSE?

DON'T SUPPOSE WE'LL GOING BACK HERE THROUGH THE TIME-MACHINE?

WE'RE JOVLY WELL GOING TO TRY!

SURELY YOU DON'T NEED ALL THIS MAGIC WATER, DO YOU?

LOOK! IT'S JUST AS THOUGH HE'D HEARD WHAT YOU SAID!

'NEUTRAL' REPUBLIC PLANNED BY CEYLON

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters)—Ceylon today announced plans to revise its constitution, making the country a republic within the Commonwealth and guaranteeing fundamental rights to minorities. Today's throne speech opening Parliament said that the foreign policy of the new government would be "strict neutrality and non-alignment with power blocs" combined with "friendship with all countries."

'Slashers' Loot Gallery

Stolen Paintings
Valued at $56,000

HAMILTON (CP)—Eleven paintings valued at $56,000 were cut from their frames and stolen from the Hamilton Art Gallery Tuesday night. Another was slashed and left at the scene.

Two of the paintings were valued at $15,000 each. One was worth $10,000 and others ranged between $800 and $5,000 in value.

Police said the theft might be linked with recent art thefts in Toronto. Three 19th century Canadian paintings worth $12,000 were stolen from the Royal Ontario Museum on March 4.

Gallery officials said the $56,000 figure was the insured value of the paintings. Their actual value could be from $60,000 to $90,000 they added.

Police said eight oils on canvas, two oils on wood and one pastel were all taken from number six gallery in the southwest part of the building. No other paintings in the gallery were touched.

One painting, Martin Luther's Doubts, by James J. J. Tissot, worth $1,000, was slashed down the middle and left in the gallery.

The thieves entered the building by sawing a hole through the bottom panel in a rear door. The gallery burglar alarm is not activated unless the door is forced open.

ALL CLASSICS
Acting gallery director Mrs. Marie Lester said all the stolen paintings were classics.

The stolen art included:
Springtime, a pastel by Leon L. Hermitte, valued at $1,200.

Le Porche de l'Eglise San Marco, oil on wood by J. W. Morrice, $1,400.

The Trader, oil on canvas, by Cornelius Krieghoff, $5,000.

The Coming Storm, oil on canvas by Henri Fantin-Latour, $15,000.

Nature Morte, oil on canvas by Georges Braque, $10,000.

Black Pool, oil on canvas by Gustave Courbet, $15,000.

More Atlas And Polaris, Less Bomarc

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower revamped his defence budget today to bolster the Atlas and Polaris missile programs and cut back the Bomarc and Super-Sage defense system.

Eisenhower's decision was announced after he conferred with top defence officials at the White House.

The new program calls for 18 additional intercontinental Atlas missiles which cost $2,000,000 each. The president's original fiscal 1961 budget contained funds for equipping the air force with 40 of the successfully-tested missiles.

No details of the stepped-up Polaris program were given, but Defence Secretary Thomas S. Gates said there would be a new weapon, which can be fired from underwater by submarines.

Gates said that because of the reduction of funds for the Bomarc, Super-Sage and continental defence programs, little if any extra money would be required.

The Atlas, a 90-foot, liquid-fuelled rocket with a range of more than 6,000 miles, is the only U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile to become operational so far.

Explosive Negro Pass Law Renewed by South Africa

System Caused Crisis

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—Justice Minister F. C. Erasmus announced today the government will re-introduce the pass system for non-whites. Opposition to the passes touched off the country's current racial turmoil.

Erasmus said police again will be ordered to demand that Negroes show their passes. The pass law was suspended at the height of the violence.

In a statement he said the government might investigate the possibility of applying the pass laws "in such a way as to put more stress upon the advantage which they hold for the Bantu (Negroes)."

HOW THEY HELP

He said the documents help Negroes "as this is the only way they can protect their right to be in an urban or white proclaimed area and to work there."

In another development on the troubled South African scene, heavily armed forces drove rebellious Negroes out of a stronghold near Durban today.

Police, supported by civilian military reserve units and armored cars, moved in on a Lamontville workers' hostel which police said defiant Negroes had held since Monday night.

The cluster of hostel buildings, surrounded by a mile-long fence, was circled before dawn, and those inside were warned that police would open fire if they did not come out and go to work.

The Negroes surrendered without a fight. Police arrested more than 300 persons and said they confiscated thousands of clubs, axes, picks and other weapons inside the hostel buildings.

Lamontville, outside Durban, was the scene of a clash between police and a crowd of Negroes campaigning for political rights Monday night.

HEAD FOR RESERVES

Reports Tuesday said hundreds had packed up their belongings and left the hostel for their homes in native reserves. The hostel buildings originally accommodated about 4,500 persons.

With the government now armed with new sweeping powers to outlaw Negro political organizations, police spokesmen say they are determined to press their campaign against what they call "inciters and intimidators."

Arms Freeze On Africa West Plan

LONDON (UPI)—The West plans to propose an African arms freeze at next month's summit conference to prevent an arms race among the new nations of the dark continent, high diplomatic sources said today.

The tentative plan calls for an appeal to the Russians to join in an agreement under which the Western powers would supply arms to Africa's infant nations.

OTTAWA HAS VETO POWER OVER U.N. COFFEE BREAK

OTTAWA (UPI)—A Conservative member of Parliament complained today that Canada's representatives abroad can't go for a cup of coffee without checking with Ottawa.

Arthur Smith, MP for Calgary South and member of Canada's 1957 and 1959 United Nations delegations, told the Commons external affairs committee that the department exercised undue control over its representatives at the UN and other international organizations.

Smith said he had a feeling of "utter frustration" when his material at the UN had to be "so completely checked" in Ottawa despite the large and excellent staff at the UN itself.

Deputy external affairs minister Norman Robertson said the department liked to check statements by representatives abroad wherever possible.

"It is very important that any statement made in the name of Canada be consistent and in line with cabinet policy," he said.

Smith said he agreed that the policy matter had to be controlled by the federal cabinet in Ottawa.

"But I would hope that delegates would be given more responsibility on the approach and material in speeches," he said. "To go for a cup of coffee, you literally have to check the time and place with Ottawa."

Smith argued that the tight control by the department left delegates inflexible.

"These references back to Ottawa always put us in the position where we're a day behind on UN affairs," he said.

Robertson said many references were necessitated by the fact that subjects before UN committees closely involved departments other than external affairs.

WINNING COMBINATION

Rivers Pound Weak Levees

CHICAGO (AP)—The turbulent Mississippi and Missouri Rivers continued their relentless pounding against soggy and weakened levees in the midwest United States flood belt today, threatening new overflows.

Swollen rivers and streams caused trouble along new fronts—in New England and New York state, and the most severe flood in 20 years was forecast along the Connecticut River in New England.

The major flood fighting was along the Mississippi and Missouri in Illinois and Missouri.

WORST CRISIS

The most immediate critical area today was along the 50-mile stretch of the Mississippi from Niotia, Ill., across from Fort Madison, Iowa, to Quincy, Ill.

Flood danger increased as water spilled over levees at several places and battered against weakened dikes.

Students joined farmers and civil defence workers in the fight to hold the levees in Niotia. They piled thousands of sandbags atop the levee south of the small community.

Across the river in Missouri, the Mississippi threatened to break through the levee at Gregory Landing, and calls were issued for more volunteers to shore up the weakening wall.

HUNDREDS LEAVE HOMES

Thousands of acres have been flooded and hundreds of families evacuated from their homes in Illinois and Missouri in the last week.

Along the Missouri, army engineers said some 20,000 acres were flooded from Osage City to the Mississippi junction north of St. Louis.

In the eastern flood zones, hundreds of persons were evacuated in scattered parts of New York state and New England as major streams reached flood crest.

Avro 'Saucer' For NATO?

TORONTO (CP)—The Star says Avro's "flying saucer" may go on the assembly line at nearby Malton as a military requirement for NATO.

In an Ottawa story, the newspaper says it is indicated the vertical takeoff vehicle will probably be one of the Canadian military projects to be submitted to the NATO armaments committee for approval for general use.

Defence Minister Peakes said at Ottawa Tuesday a number of such projects would be submitted by Canada, but he did not name any. "It is expected production of the Avrocar for NATO will be urged by either Canada or the U.S. or both," The Star says.

Two prototypes have been completed, and one was shipped to California last year for testing.

Party Woos Red Trade

(Times Ottawa Bureau) OTTAWA—Canada is making a determined bid to sell isotopes, including cobalt 60 therapy units and Salk vaccine, to the Iron Curtain countries.

Heading a three-man delegation is William Green, export manager of Atomic Energy of Canada.

They flew to Europe a week ago and will visit Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Poland, Soviet Union and possibly Yugoslavia.

ANNIVERSARY RIDE THROUGH LONDON

French President Charles de Gaulle and his wife celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary today in London as they rode in an open carriage along Fleet Street to a civic luncheon at the Guildhall. Big crowds of Britons cheered the French couple on the second day of a three-day state visit.

BRITONS CHARMED

De Gaulle, Mac Talk Summit

LONDON (CP)—Charles de Gaulle, after charming Britons in the first hectic day of his visit here, wound up his pre-summit talks with Prime Minister Macmillan today.

Then he rode through streets lined with cheering crowds to a banquet given by the lord mayor of London.

The French president and Mrs. de Gaulle were driven in an open state carriage from Buckingham Palace to the ancient Guildhall, seat of the semi-independent old City of London.

The French chief of state met Macmillan during the morning and talked over with him various world issues expected to arise at the Big Four summit conference opening in Paris May 16.

Earlier in the day de Gaulle turned out in morning clothes to receive the high commissioners for Commonwealth countries, including George Drew of Canada, at the palace. His talks with Macmillan took place in the presence of the French and British foreign ministers, Maurice Couve de Murville and Selwyn Lloyd, indicating that some detailed diplomatic work was conducted.

BAN THE BOMB

Meanwhile, a small group of demonstrators demanding "Ban the bomb" greeted the president's wife as she drove into the grounds of a children's hospital at Carshalton, south of London. One of their banners read: "How many children are an H-bomb worth?"

The incident was the first jarring note in the visit, during which de Gaulle has shattered the image of a rigidly austere leader.

As he drove with the Queen in the Queen's carriage to the Guildhall Palace Tuesday he waved continually to the lunchtime crowds. And the London crowds responded warmly with cries of "Vive de Gaulle."

Finally there was the magnificent, glittering banquet Tuesday night at Buckingham Palace.

And on the floodlit palace balcony afterwards he waved and opened his arms to the 100,000 which watched a breath-taking fireworks display.

The spokesman added that it had not yet been decided who now would be best man.

Fry, who has an engineering firm, has been a friend of Armstrong-Jones for years and it was at his home that the photographer and the sister of Queen Elizabeth spent several weekends before their surprise engagement was announced.

He also is an old friend of Prince Philip. They were at Gordonstoun School together.

REDS' TOP RECIPES GO WEST

LONDON (UPI)—The head chef at Communist China's London embassy has defected to the west and been granted asylum in Britain, it was announced today.

Simultaneously with the announcement the man was presented at a press conference where he told of his decision to seek freedom after six years' virtual isolation in the Chinese embassy.

Kou Teh-Lou, 40, told the press conference he sneaked out of the embassy on Feb. 26 while other staff members were attending a daily political indoctrination meeting.

It was the first time he had ever been in the streets of London alone, he said.

Refugee officials said today they believed Kou was the first member of a Communist Chinese diplomatic establishment to gain asylum in the free world.

Speaking through an interpreter, Kou said daily life inside the London Embassy is severely regimented.

Special permission must be obtained to go to a movie, he said, and then only in the company of three embassy members. Even to buy a pair of socks, he said, permission must be obtained.

He had two days off a month, during which he was required to clean his room.

Kou said he himself was obliged to engage in "self-criticism" of his work every three or four months, which meant confessing that he had prepared certain dishes poorly.

57 DROWNED IN SHIPWRECK

TEHRAN, Iran (Reuters)—Fifty-seven persons were reported drowned in the Persian Gulf today when their motor launch was wrecked in a storm.

Fifteen persons, including the skipper, survived, the newspaper Keshan reported.

A violent storm has been raging in the area all week and the Ahadun area has also been blanketed by a heavy dust storm, which has reduced visibility to 20 feet, the newspaper said.

ROYAL WEDDING

Best Man Bows Out 'For Health'

LONDON (UPI)—Jeremy Fry, 35-year-old heir to a chocolate fortune, withdrew today as best man at the forthcoming wedding of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones "for health reasons."

Rumors that Fry would not attend his good friend Armstrong-Jones had been current for days but the handsome millionaire denied them vigorously.

There have been continuing talks about Fry's participation in the wedding between Buckingham Palace and Clarence House and the decision that his health would not stand up to the long day of ceremonial apparently was taken this afternoon.

Fry himself made the announcement. He said he had acted on his doctor's advice but he did not specify the illness.

SUCCESSOR UNNAMED

A Clarence House spokesman said he did not know what was wrong with Fry who recently returned from a skiing holiday in Switzerland.

The spokesman added that it had not yet been decided who now would be best man.

Fry, who has an engineering firm, has been a friend of Armstrong-Jones for years and it was at his home that the photographer and the sister of Queen Elizabeth spent several weekends before their surprise engagement was announced.

He also is an old friend of Prince Philip. They were at Gordonstoun School together.

Gagliardi to Hold Ottawa Talks

VANCOUVER (CP) — Highway Minister Gagliardi said today he will fly to Ottawa Tuesday to discuss Trans-Canada Highway progress with federal officials.

B.C. Mystery Victims in Car Crash

SANDPOINT, Idaho (AP) — Officers today were trying to learn the identities of a Canadian woman and boy killed in a collision and to learn details of the high-speed head-on smash.

One car bore British Columbia licence plates and the other from Manitoba. The injured were identified as Howard Sandberg, 35, and Robert O'Brien, 25, both of Vancouver, and both in critical condition, and Jacob Goetz, 60, Manitoba, fair condition.

Canadiens Call Up 3 for Final

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens today announced they have called up defencemen Jean-Claude Tremblay and left-winger Gilles Tremblay of Hull-Ottawa Canadiens as emergency standby players for the Stanley Cup final series against Toronto Maple Leafs.

Defenceman Reg Fleming of Kingston Frontenacs is already with Canadiens in an emergency capacity.

WREXHAM, Wales (Reuters) — Wales defeated Ireland 3-2 in an international soccer game here tonight.

Rivers Pound
Weak Levees

CHICAGO (AP) — The turbulent Mississippi and Missouri Rivers continued their relentless pounding against soggy and weakened levees in the midwest United States flood belt today, threatening new overflows.

Swollen rivers and streams caused trouble along new fronts in New England and New York state, and the most severe flood in 20 years was forecast along the Connecticut River in New England.

The major flood fighting was along the Mississippi and Missouri in Illinois and Missouri.

WORST CRISIS

The most immediate critical area today was along the 50-mile stretch of the Mississippi from Niota, Ill., across from Fort Madison, Iowa, to Quincy, Ill.

Flood danger increased as water spilled over levees at several places and battered against weakened dikes. Students joined farmers and civil defence workers in the fight to hold the levees in Niota. They piled thousands of sandbags atop the levee south of the small community. Across the river in Missouri, the Mississippi threatened to break through the levee at Gregory Landing, and calls were issued for more volunteers to shore up the weakening wall.

HUNDREDS LEAVE HOMES

Thousands of acres have been flooded and hundreds of families evacuated from their homes in Illinois and Missouri in the last week.

Along the Missouri, army engineers said some 20,000 acres were flooded from Osage City to the Mississippi junction north of St. Louis.

In the eastern flood zones, hundreds of persons were evacuated in scattered parts of New York state and New England as major streams reached flood crest.

Two Victorians Jailed
For Drug Possession

NANAIMO (CP) — David Errett, 34, of Victoria, who was found with more than 48 capsules of heroin, was sentenced today to concurrent terms of five and two years for trafficking and possession of narcotics.

Douglas Carlson, 28, also of Victoria, arrested with Errett as the ferry from Vancouver was docking here, was sentenced to 18 months for possession.

Pass Law
Renewed
By S. Africa

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Justice Minister F. C. Erasmus announced today the government will reintroduce the pass system for non-whites. Opposition to the passes touched off the country's current racial turmoil.

Erasmus said police again will be ordered to demand that Negroes show their passes. The pass law was suspended at the height of the violence.

In a statement he said the government might investigate the possibility of applying the pass laws "in such a way as to put more stress upon the advantage which they hold for the Bantu (Negroes)."

HOW THEY HELP

He said the documents help Negroes "as this is the only way they can protect their right to be in an urban or white proclaimed area and to work there."

In another development on the troubled South African scene, heavily armed forces drove rebellious Negroes out of a stronghold near Durban today.

Police, supported by civilian military reserve units and armored cars, moved in on a Lamontville workers' hostel which police said defiant Negroes had held since Monday night.

The cluster of hostel buildings, surrounded by a mile-long fence, was circled before dawn, and those inside were warned that police would open fire if they did not come out and go to work.

The Negroes surrendered without a fight. Police arrested more than 300 persons and said they confiscated thousands of clubs, axes, picks and other weapons inside the hostel buildings.

Perrault
'Considers'
Oak Bay

B.C. Liberal leader Ray Perrault today said he is "seriously considering" seeking the party's nomination for Oak Bay constituency to be ready for a by-election.

Mr. Perrault will come here from his Vancouver headquarters to "discuss the whole question" Tuesday morning with Oak Bay and Victoria Liberals.

He made it clear that he would seek the Oak Bay nomination if Premier Bennett calls a by-election there ahead of a general election. The seat became vacant last month on the death of Liberal MLA P. A. Gibbs.

Mr. Perrault, 34-year-old newcomer who never has run for office before, said he had been offered nomination in several constituencies but was considering Oak Bay seriously because Premier Bennett might delay a general election to next year.

If a by-election is held in the Oak Bay constituency, I would be duty-bound as party leader to seek the first seat that is open," he said.

"We're not running scared from anything."

But Mr. Perrault said that if the Oak Bay seat is left vacant until a general election he "would not necessarily" seek it.

ANNIVERSARY RIDE THROUGH LONDON

French President Charles de Gaulle and his wife celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary today in London as they rode in an open carriage along Fleet

BRITONS CHARMED

De Gaulle, Mac
Talk Summit

LONDON (CP) — Charles de Gaulle, after charming Britons in the first hectic day of his visit here, wound up his pre-summit talks with Prime Minister Macmillan today.

Then he rode through streets lined with cheering crowds to a banquet given by the lord mayor of London.

The French president and Mrs. de Gaulle were driven in an open carriage from Buckingham Palace to the ancient Guildhall, seat of the semi-independent old City of London.

The French chief of state met Macmillan during the morning and talked over with him various world issues expected to arise at the Big Four summit conference opening in Paris May 16.

Earlier in the day de Gaulle turned out in morning clothes to receive the high commissioners for Commonwealth countries, including George Drew of Canada, at the palace.

Avro 'Saucer'
For NATO?

TORONTO (CP) — The Star says Avro's "flying saucer" may go on the assembly line at nearby Malton as a military requirement for NATO.

In an Ottawa story, the newspaper says it is indicated the vertical takeoff vehicle will probably be one of the Canadian military projects to be submitted to the NATO armaments committee for approval for general use.

Defence Minister Peckes said at Ottawa Tuesday a number of such projects would be submitted by Canada, but he did not name any.

"It is expected production of the Avrocar for NATO will be urged by either Canada or the U.S. or both," The Star says.

Two prototypes have been completed, and one was shipped to California last year for testing.

Hamilton
Centre
Looted

HAMILTON (CP) — Eleven paintings valued at $56,000 were cut from their frames and stolen from the Hamilton Art Gallery Tuesday night. Another was slashed and left at the scene.

Two of the paintings were valued at $15,000 each. One was worth $10,000 and others ranged between $800 and $5,000 in value.

Police said the theft might be linked with recent art thefts in Toronto. Three 19th-century Canadian paintings worth $12,000 were stolen from the Royal Ontario Museum on March 4.

Gallery officials said the $56,000 figure was the insured value of the paintings. Their actual value could be from $60,000 to $90,000 they added.

Police said eight oils on canvas, two oils on wood and one pastel were all taken from number six gallery in the southwest part of the building. No other paintings in the gallery were touched.

One painting, Martin Luther's Doubt, by James J. Tissot, worth $1,000, was slashed down the middle and left in the gallery.

The thieves entered the building by sawing a hole through the bottom panel in a rear door. The gallery burglar alarm is not activated unless the door is forced open.

ALL CLASSICS

Acting gallery director Mrs. Marie Lester said all the stolen paintings were classics.

The stolen art included: Springtime, a pastel, by Leon L'Hermitte, valued at $1,200.

Le Porche de l'Eglise San Marco, oil on wood by J. W. Morrice, $1,400.

The Trader, oil on canvas, by Cornelius Krieghoff, $5,000.

The Coming Storm, oil on canvas by Henri Fantin-Latour, $15,000.

Nature Morte, oil on canvas by Georges Braque, $10,000.

Black Pool, oil on canvas by Gustave Courbet, $15,000.

More Atlas
And Polaris,
Less Bomarc

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower revamped his defence budget today to bolster the Atlas and Polaris missile programs and cut back the Bomarc and Canberra defence planes.

Eisenhower's decision was announced after he conferred with top defence officials at the White House.

The new program calls for 15 additional intercontinental Atlas missiles which cost $2,000,000 each. The president's original fiscal 1961 budget contained funds for equipping the air force with 40 of the successfully-tested missiles.

No details of the stepped-up Polaris program were given, but Defence Secretary Thomas S. Gates said there would be an "augmentation" of the navy weapon, which can be fired from underwater by submarines.

Gates said that because of the reduction of funds for the Bomarc, Super-Sage and continental defence programs, little if any extra money would be required.

The Atlas, a 90-foot, liquid-fuelled rocket with a range of more than 6,000 miles, is the only U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile to become operational so far.
